Mammoth gas storage plant near Mt. Prospect

National Tube company, U. S. steel subsidiary, has collaborated with the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois in a project experts believe will revolutionize the natural gas storage field. In short, the project provides for gas storage underground rather than in the conventional storage tanks above ground, and insures larger subterranean natural gas storage facilities in the years to come.

The utility last fall completed pilot installation of subterranean gas storage at Kankakee, and started this week on an installation on a 160-acre tract at Wolf and Foundry roads at Mt. Prospect, nearly 40 times as large as the Kankakee pilot installation. National Tube, which furnished most of the pipe for the wartime "Big Inch" oil line, built the high pressure, torpedo-like, pipe sections for the Kankakee project and is now finishing the underground pipe for the Mt. Prospect installation.

At Kankakee the pilot plant was a capacity of 1,250,000 cubic feet of gas, while at Mt. Prospect the finished project will have a capacity of 40,000,000 cubic feet. Inasmuch as there previously were no installations of this kind to guide them, engineers of the utility company and National Tube pioneered step by step in the development, first in blueprints and then by experimentation. When blueprints and preliminary tests of pipe installation had been determined, construction of the pilot plant at Kankakee proceeded according to schedule. Finally, with the Kankakee installation completed, but before actual gas was introduced into the underground storage system, a conclusive test was made with air. The test was successful and natural gas was then forced into the sections under pressure, and the Kankakee plant was in operation. It has been operating successfully since November.

The pipe sections made by National Tube for the underground gas storage are fashioned from 24 inch seamless molybdenum steel pipe, similar to that used in the "Big Inch" except that the wall thickness is 1/2 inch as compared with 3/8 inch in the "Big Inch." Each of the completed pipe sections is 40 feet long with a capacity of 25,000 cubic feet at 2,240 pounds pressure. They are nosed in at the ends and machined for connection, one to another.

The pipe sections are buried many feet underground. The utility company said the underground gas storage primarily has a lower cost of initial installation; secondly, a lower cost for operating and maintenance than the conventional gas holders so familiar in the American landscape. Another important point in favor of the underground system, the utility company said, is that since storage is in numerous, small units storage capacity may be added easily or any unit may be taken out of service for repair or inspection without disturbing the others. Inasmuch as the installations are subterranean, above-ground hazards are eliminated.

Pipe for the pipe sections is made and finished at plants of National Tube company near Pittsburgh. They undergo hydrostatic water testing to insure that they withstand pressure of 2,800 pounds per square inch.

Division VFW meeting Sunday at Arlington Heights

The 8th division meeting of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States will be held in the Arlington Heights fieldhouse at 3:00 p. m. Sunday, May 18. The Mt. Prospect ritual team will obligate all new members and any other members who have not yet been obligated.

Refreshments will be served after the regular meeting. All members are urged to attend this meeting.

Beer sale to juveniles carries a heavy penalty in city of Elgin

A third Elgin tavern has been closed for a 60-day period because a bartender sold three beers to a bell boy only 17 years old. The owner will also have to pay a $200 fine.

He was given his choice of a hearing on a permanent revocation of license or admittance of guilt and taking a temporary closing.

The youth who bought the beers was fined $100.

Cops find truckers have little regard for weight limits

State police officers are weighing a great many trucks at the public scale in Arlington Hts. The weighing was started as a study on the part of the highway department to learn exactly what weights are being carried by trucks on the highways. It has developed into many arrests and collection of stiff fines. Many truck operators are disregarding the state weight law.

The state law, prior to the emergency, prohibited weights over 40,000 pounds. During the war the weight limit was raised to 59,000 pounds. On June 30, six months after the declaration of President Truman that hostilities had ended, the weight limits will automatically go back to 40,000 pounds. Truck owners are sponsoring a bill in the state legislature permitting the 59,000 pounds.

11,000 lbs. overweight
The highway department requested the gathering of the weight data. Many trucks being weighed on the Arlington scales, exceeded even the war time limit. One of them this week was 11,000 pounds overweight, more than the weight carried on many freight cars.

In all cases of overweights, fines were inflicted.

Arlington, Mount Prospect lead home building

Home building reports for April show a 44 per cent increase over value. The figures are 1,806 homes to cost $14,284,560 started in April as against 1,255 homes, $10,003,907, given permits in March.

But there seems to be a great deal more to the situation than simply the gains of April over March and of April of this year over April of last year.

Arlington Heights and Mt. Prospect both ranked high among suburban communities of the Chicago area in home building permits granted. Arlington granted 24 permits for homes valued at $239,900, Mt. Prospect 20 homes valued at $213,400.

Bensenville, 2, $17,500
Des Plaines, 9, $86,425
Glenview, 20, $208,400
Northbrook, 22, $196,000.

New men take office in Arlington VFW

Arlington Heights VFW post held its annual installation of officers Friday night at the local fieldhouse. Pictured above are the new officers of post 981, reading left to right: Forrest Davis, George Svetanoff, William Heffern, Harold Luettschwager, Frank Moskal, Vance Folkman, Donald Oefelein, Sylvester Greschner, Albert Adam, John Duthorn, Robert Schaer, Carl Luettschwager.

State police grab stolen car in 25 minutes

Officers Edwin C. Wolfe and James Novak of the state police pulled a "fast one" Monday morning when they recovered a stolen car 25 minutes after word of the theft over the air. The message of the missing car was heard over their radio at 5:51 a. m. At 6:14 a. m., while cruising on Rand Road at Route 53, the two officers spotted the car and gave chase.

The occupants of the car, Wm. M. Albimack, 17, and Berthold Schultz, Jr., Elmhurst, first claimed that the car, a 1947 Chevrolet, had been rented from a friend for $7 for the day and they were on their way to Twin Lakes. They could not remember the friend's name and soon confessed.

The boys were taken before Judge Behrens at 8 o'clock. Schultz, because of his age, was sent to the Juvenile Court, while his companion was sent to the Attorney's office. Schultz's 17th birthday occurred the following day, removing him from the jurisdiction of the Juvenile Court. The two boys were sent back to Judge Behrens Tuesday, who in turn bound them over to the criminal court.

The car belonged to Elizabeth Bertolani, 7233, Diversey ave., Elmhurst, Ill. The owner parked the car at 5 a. m., locking it. The boys jumped wires. Its loss was discovered at 5:30.

The short time that elapsed between the theft of the car, its recovery and the sentencing of the boys to the criminal court is a record breaker in these parts, says Judge Behrens.

Judge Neumann returns driving licenses

Two Arlington Heights boys, Robert Deiber and Wm. McManaway are again authorized to drive autos. Judge Neumann returned their drivers' licenses to them this week which were taken away from them 60 days ago. The judge is strong for safe driving and learning that the boys had obeyed the court's order and had not driven a car during the prohibitive period, suspended the balance of the fines.

Judge Neumann attempts to operate his office on the theory that the learning of respect for the law is more important than collection of a fine. "Too many people think the payment of a fine gives them a right to break traffic regulations. Inability to drive a car for two months is a greater punishment than payment of a mere fine," says Neumann.

State police may go under civil service

A bill in the state legislature placing the police system of Illinois under civil service has received such support from civic bodies and others who want to have politics completely divorced from the police service that it has been given the green light by the committee and will be voted upon the legislature within ten days.

Eighty per cent of the arrests in Illinois are today made by the state police. Trained men for that purpose can be assured if there is no need to fear the political axe.

Persons interested in its passage are asked to write their legislators and state senator.

Inflation story to end all stories

The 10,000 subscribers of Paddock Publications are continually reading of inflation and causes thereof. The publishers are this week presenting one of their own — a story of a paper cutter that increased its value 75% in just 49 years of use.

Back in 1898 H. C. Paddock purchased a used hand powered paper cutter for exactly $100. This week, Tuesday, that same cutter was sold to another printer for $175. "A nice profit," said the editor, "even if it did take 49 years and two world wars to make it."

Sylvester Greschner installed commander Arlington V. F. W.

In colorful ceremonies, Sylvester Greschner was installed as commander of Arlington Heights Post No. 981, VFW, Friday evening at the Recreation Park fieldhouse. Mrs. Isabel Schmuckal was installed as president of the Ladies Auxiliary.

The Des Plaines Post 2992 installation team, composed of all past commanders, with Henry Harms the master of ceremonies and Ed. Murphy installing officers, installed the following officers:

S. Greschner, commander; H. Luettschwager, sr. vice com.; George Svetanoff, jr. vice com.; John Duthorn, quartermaster; Donald Oefelein, adjutant; Forrest Davis, chaplain; Robert Schaer, post surgeon; Wm. Heffern, trustee; Albert J. Adam, officer-of-the-day; Frank Moskal, judge advocate; Vance Folkman and Carl Luettschwager, Cook county council delegates.

Isabel Schmuckal again president of auxiliary

Anna Wright, past president of Des Plaines ladies auxiliary, installed the following officers for the ensuing year: Isabel Schmuckal, president; Caroline Held, sr. vice pres.; Cecelia Saar, jr. vice pres.; Sophia Hineberger, chaplain; Edith Helfers, conductress; Fannie May, treasurer; Elaine Allison, secretary; Emma Kohn, Ruth Horcher and Martha Nebel, trustees; Marie Belle, historian; Rose Foley, patriotic instructor; Lillian Becker, guard; Ida Weide, Eleanor Dieball, June Nebel and Annie Davis, color bearers.

Following the installation, refreshments were served and Lang's orchestra provided music for dancing.

R. R. detectives seeking boy with .22 rifle

Some boy with a .22 rifle just missed murdering a collector on a Barrington train Saturday between Barrington and Palatine. The railroad collector was sitting next the aisle and escaped with a glass wound near his eye. If he had been adjacent to the window, he would probably have received the full impact of the bullet.

The state law prohibits sale of shells to juveniles without a written approval of parents. Parents are responsible for damage inflicted by rifles in the hands of their children.

Railroad detectives are endeavoring to make a checkup on boys of the Palatine-Barrington area who might have been hunting Saturday.

Tax rush subsidies

The heavy tax rush that greeted the township collectors when they opened their offices has subsided and things are once more normal in those offices.

The collectors are having a chance to catch up on back work, answer a lot of correspondence and otherwise catch up with their work.

The collectors would like to impress upon property owners that if for any reason they did not receive a tax bill to please call at the offices early so that a proper bill can be prepared.

The huge volume of property transfers has caused many tax bills to go to the wrong people so if a property owner has not received a bill he should call upon the collector at once and not wait for the last few days rush to secure his bill.

The collectors report an increased number of first installment payments this year from people who formerly paid in full at the time of the first collection.

This condition is due to the higher tax bills say the collectors.

The township collectors ask their patrons to make payments to the local offices as early as possible and not wait for the last days rush just before penalty date at the downtown office.

V. Sadecky installs television this week

An additional television set has made its appearance in Arlington Heights. V. Sadecky is installing the service at his place this week. Television programs are at present confined to sport events and evening shorts. Newspaper radio programs give the hour and attractions.

Expect Break In Bus Strike Deadlock Soon

Officials of the United Motor Coach Company of Des Plaines, declared yesterday that a break in the strike deadlock between the company and the bus drivers was expected soon. The United Motor Coach buses have not operated since May 2, when its 61 drivers staged a "quickie" walk-out, catching both the company and the daily 15,000 commuters flat-footed. Along with the drivers, 21 maintenance men are also on strike.

The company pointed out its embarrassment in not being able to warn the public in advance and particularly the great inconvenience being caused all alike by the tieup. The issue revolves around an hourly wage increase. The drivers are asking for a 25 cent per hour increase over the $1.10 per hour wage they are now receiving. It is understood that the company has agreed to pay $1.15.

According to United Coach officials the drivers are receiving $3.40 on the average per year together with pension plan benefits, insurance, hospitalization for entire family and vacations with pay. They say that the company is unable to meet the drivers' demands.

A U. S. conductor has been called in and conferences are taking place daily between the company representatives and union officials representing the striking bus drivers.

$4,000 buys District 58 school and land

R. S. Tuscher won out as highest bidder for the abandoned District 58 school building and land located on the corner of Route 53 and Linnemann road. The entire property was purchased for $4,000.

Girl Scout rally makes plans for this year's day camp

The Girl Scout Council of Arlington Heights held its initial Day Camp Rally at the fieldhouse May 5 to announce plans for this summer's day camp to be conducted jointly by the Arlington Heights and Mt. Prospect councils. At this meeting, attended by more than 150 enthusiastic girl scouts and brownies and many parents, Mrs. Alva Meyer, president of the Arlington Heights Council, stated that the dates of the camping periods will be as follows:

Intermediate Girl Scouts, Tuesday, June 17 through Friday, June 20.

Brownie Girl Scouts, Tuesday, June 24 through Friday, June 27.

Mrs. Frances Brooks of Mt. Prospect, who has had experience as a professional girl scout executive, was announced as the director of this year's day camps. A number of adults volunteered their services during the planning session held at the rally. Other workers are to be chosen by each scout troop committee, in order to meet the requirement of the councils for every troop committee to provide one leader for each eight girls attending the camp from their troop.

Following the showing of colored films depicting the interesting and instructive activities in the local camps last summer, details of registration for this year's activities were explained. Registrations will be closed June 1, so girls wishing to attend must complete this task before that date.

A new feature of this year's camp will be an opportunity for girls to begin the work required for out door badges. Because of the interest of parents in the day camps, plans are under way to hold a picnic on the evening of the closing day of each session to which the families of the campers will be invited.

Poppy Day May 24

May 24 has been set aside as Poppy Day in Arlington Hts. This drive is sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Mrs. Michael Saar will act as chairman.

Auditor interprets tax figures for Arlington

There has been so much confusion among tax payers regarding increased taxes and the effect of the increased valuations, that Paddock Publications requested an auditor to diagnose the tax increases of taxpayers who reside within the village of Arlington Heights.

His figures are very illuminating. The tax increase of the forest preserve is 27%. An increase of the township rate of 81% is due to the first road and bridge tax for several years. The grade school increase is 25% and the high school 6%.

These rates increases only mean an actual dollars and cents increase of 17% so increased rates of separate taxing bodies do not mean so very much to the small taxpayer.

The figures at least show the proportionate part of the extra cut of the tax dollar each taxing body is getting.

COMPARISON OF 1945-1946 LOCAL TAXES
Since the 1946 property values were established at 159% of 1945 values, the 1946 rates have been converted to the 1945 basis, for comparative purposes.

	1945 Rate	Comparable rate for 1946	Increase Net	%
County	$ .40	$ .4134	$ .0134	03.3%
Forest Preserve	.05	.0636	.0136	27.2%

Want ad record

Paddock Publications want ad pages are continually setting new records. Just two weeks ago the publishers presented 21 columns of classified advertising to their readers. This week 10,000 local subscribers will be able to glance over 22 1/4 columns of want ads.

Does Arlington need Richard Jahn as fire chief?

When Mayor Goedke, Arlington Heights, made his appointments last week, he stated that because Richard Jahn would reach the retirement age as fire chief in July, his appointment was only until that month.

Arlington Heights Fire Department was host Monday evening to Cook County Firemen's Association. As is usual, after the meeting, when the chiefs of the various towns were in one group, Fire Chief Jahn told them that he was retiring in July.

Wm. Bierman, Mt. Prospect, Chief Comfort of Palatine and the heads of other fire departments of this area, freely criticized Arlington Heights business men for not making an effort to retain the services of its fire chief, regardless of any local ordinance.

Mr. Comfort said Wednesday morning, "Mr. Jahn has studied fire fighting as few men in the northwest area. He knows a lot about fire fighting methods. I do not see how Arlington can afford to let him go. Palatine had a similar situation a number of years ago when the late Chief Wm. Ost reached the retirement age. Palatine decided that the worthiness of a fire chief is based on his fire fighting knowledge, not on his ability to slide down a ladder."

Editor's Note: The above story is being published without the knowledge of Mr. Jahn.

Cub Scout baseball league opens play

The last pack meeting for this year's cub scout season in Arlington Heights, will be held Friday night, May 16, at 8 o'clock at the auditorium of the North school. The meeting starts an hour later than previous meetings to give the cubs a chance to complete their regularly scheduled ball game for that night.

There will be a Webelo ceremony with four cubs receiving the Webelo, highest rank in cubbing. They are Donald Helfers, Richard McAuliff, Chris Kent and Garwood Leckband. In addition to the Webelo ceremony, four boys will be inducted into the ranks of cubbing, Howard Plontke, Norman Plontke, Thos. M. Lee and Roger Boeger.

Late taxpayers can still make it, but they've got to hurry

County Treasurer Nelson sent word to his outer office Wednesday that all township collectors be notified to return their books to him by May 28th. This means that those who have not paid their taxes will have only one more week in which to visit their township collector.

The action of the present treasurer, a Republican, was a departure from his Democratic predecessors who have in past years allowed the local collectors to hold the books until penalty date.

Tax collector dates
Wm. Annen, tax collector for Wheeling township, is at the Arlington Heights National Bank every day except Wednesday May 21, when he will be at the Mt. Prospect bank.

Albert Kramer, collector of Elk Grove township, will be at the Mt. Prospect State Bank, until closing date.
T. C. Hart, Palatine collector, holds office hours at the office of Wm. DePue every day, including Saturday afternoon.

All the collectors ask that payments be made to them not later than May 24th.

High school board near selection of new principal

Arlington Heights school board has been interviewing a number of applicants for the principalship of the local school. A committee over the week end will visit the home communities of a few of the applicants. It is expected that a definite decision will be made within ten days.

Church open daily

The Official Boards of the First Presbyterian church announce that the church doors will be open each day so that anyone who wishes may enter the sanctuary for quiet, prayer and meditation. The Boards realize that the church ought to be open seven days a week and feel that many people, whether members or not, would like to have a place to which they may come and be alone.

War bride provides treats at publication office Friday

It was the bride and groom who gave the treats at the plant of Paddock Publications last Friday. Such showers are customary on birthdays, but this time the hostess was Miss Ursula Hagemann, a charming young lady who had arrived a few days earlier from Wiesbaden, Germany, to become the bride of Arthur Volz, an employee of the publishing firm.

The young lady passed around the treats as her husband-to-be was the introductions. They met over a year ago in her native city, where Mr. Volz served as a captain. He has been waiting many months for the arrival of his bride. Mr. Volz went to New York to meet her overseas plane, only to learn that because of bad weather, the plane had landed at Washington. When asked if her parents were hesitant about their only daughter coming to America, Mrs. Volz said, "While Arthur was selling himself to me, he was selling the United States to the family." The society page carries the story of the wedding.

Special services to fete 100 years of Schaumburg church

St. Peter Lutheran Church at Schaumburg. Eighty-four years ago its members hauled bricks from Dundee by ox-cart and helped with its construction in other ways. The congregation is celebrating the 100th anniversary of its organization on the last two Sundays of this month.

On May 18 and 25, St. Peter Evangelical Lutheran Church at Schaumburg will observe the centennial of its organization with appropriate services of thanksgiving.

On the first jubilee Sunday, the Rev. Carl Pfotenbauer of Chicago, the only living former pastor, will preach in the German service at 10 a. m., and another Chicago pastor, the Rev. William Rohlwing, who is a native son of the congregation, will deliver the English anniversary sermon in the service at 2:30 p. m.

On the second Sunday of celebration, the Rev. J. W. Behnken, D. D., President of the Lutheran Church of the Missouri Synnod, will address the congregation in German at 10 a. m., and in the afternoon at 2:30 the Rev. Wilbert Theiss of Port Washington, Wis., son of a former pastor, will occupy its pulpit.

During the noon hour on both Sundays, a ham dinner will be served in the basement of the West School, not far from the church.

The beginning
In 1840, there were only four or five Lutheran families in the vicinity of Schaumburg, which was then known as Sarah's Grove. On the second Christmas Day of that year, Pastor Francis Hoffmann of Addison (at that time called Dunkley's Grove) conducted the first Lutheran service held in this area in a barn. In 1847 he accepted the call to become first pastor of the Schaumburg congregation, then composed of some twenty-five families. However, only four (Continued on Page Seven)

Cars crash at dangerous corner in Palatine

Nobody was killed at the corner of Chicago avenue and Northwest highway in Palatine Saturday night, but that is not the fault of the state highway department which refuses to recognize that intersection as dangerous. An army car and a civilian auto were involved in the crash which resulted in demolished car and injured people being spread all around the place.

Taken to the Palatine hospital and treated for injuries were Dan Regan and Joe Kindl of Elmhurst; Dorothy Ebsch and Mary Lou Kartman, of Northbrook; Jerry B. Hamisch of Elmhurst was the driver and owner of the civilian car.

Floyd E. Haynes of Ft. Sheridan was the driver of the army car.

Attempts by the village to get the installation of lights or stop signs both ways have been unavailing. The excuse of the highway department is that there is not sufficient traffic, yet such lights have been established north of Barrington where traffic is comparable.

Girl Scout news

Troop 12
The Arlington Heights seventh grade Girl Scouts of troop 12 from the North school are completing their Child Care badge. At a recent troop meeting Mrs. Fred Chambers talked about the care of small children from the standpoint of health and safety. At the meeting held Monday,

May 12, Miss Laura Grothe, first grade teacher, South school, talked to the group on Children's Books and entertaining the small child. Last Saturday the girls had an all-day spring picnic at Elk Grove. They enjoyed a nature hike. Mrs. W. M. Hubbard and Mrs. L. R. Hinds accompanied the troop.

Troop 1, Lutheran
Saturday, May 10, the Girl

Scouts of troop 1 of the Arlington Heights Lutheran school enjoyed seeing the play, "The Prince and the Pauper," currently playing at the Goodman theater. This is the second play the girls have seen this year.

At the next troop meeting the girls plan to go on a penny hike, ending at the home of their leader, Mrs. Wm. Keiser. There they will finish their mother's gifts and enjoy games and refreshments. The gifts will be presented at a mothers tea to be held May 27.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 11, was:

"ADAM AND FALLEN MAN"

The Golden Text was:
"As by one man's disobedience many were made sinners, so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous" (Romans 5: 19).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible:

"And, behold, they brought to him a man sick of the palsy, lying on a bed; and Jesus seeing their faith said unto the sick of the palsy; Son, be of good cheer; thy sins be forgiven thee. And, behold, certain of the scribes said within themselves, This man blasphemeth. And Jesus knowing their thoughts said, wherefore think ye evil in your hearts? For the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, (then saith he to the sick of the palsy,) Arise, take up thy bed, and go unto thine house. And he arose, and departed to his house." (Matt. 9: 2-7).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"Critics should consider that the so-called mortal man is not the reality of man. Then they would behold the signs of Christ's coming. Christ, as the spiritual or true idea of God, comes now as of old, preaching the gospel to the poor, healing the sick, and casting out evils. When speaking of God's children, not the children of men, Jesus said, 'The kingdom of God is within you; that is, Truth and Love reign in the real man, showing that man in God's image is unfallen and eternal' (pp. 347, 476).

Eli Skinner DAR chapter observes first anniversary

Members of Eli Skinner chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, celebrated the first birthday anniversary of the chapter the evening of May 1 in the Stonegate home of Mrs. C. H. Mills, 129 Drury lane.

The group was officially organized one year ago, and since that time the membership has doubled, and the chapter has made its contribution toward support of the educational and philanthropic program sponsored by the state and national D.A.R. organizations. Several ancestral charts are awaiting verification in Washington, and indications are that the chapter will continue to grow during the next year as it has the first.

Although proof of lineal descent from a Revolutionary ancestor is a required membership qualification, it is necessary for applicants to be invited by the board of management and sponsored by members not on the board. Following the preliminary steps, names of prospective members are presented to the chapter for acceptance. This plan follows that of older and established chapters.

One of the state D.A.R. projects is the refurbishing of the chance of Great Lakes chapel at a cost of $2,600. The national projects fund of the nation-wide D.A.R. has included providing of radio head sets for several thousand injured war veterans at a cost of $61,000, and installation of a radio distribution system for patients in Mayo General Hospital, Galesburg. Estimated cost of X-ray apparatus for hospital ships totals more than $556,000, which is another project of D. A. R. Part of the Americanization work of the D.A.R. includes help in maintaining the reserve officers training corps program, distribution of citizenship manuals in immigration courts and schools, as well as aid in settlement work. Other phases of the national program are varied in nature and broad in scope, including support of mountain schools, one of the main objectives.

Bill North to State Camp
At the Thursday night meeting announcement was made of election by the local high school faculty of Bill North of Stonegate, to attend Boys' State camp June 22 to 29 in Springfield, Ill. This is sponsored by the American Legion for the purpose of preserving an appreciation of government ideals. The name of Eli Skinner chapter was drawn at a meeting of the Fourth Division of the D.A.R., which includes 32 chapters, so it is that the local chapter had the honor of sending a boy to the camp as guest of the American Legion. Qualifications were weighed and the recipient was judged best fitted for this training, although all were eligible whether or not their mothers were identified with the D.A.R. chapter.

The candidacy of Mrs. Roscoe C. O'Brien of Brookfield, Ind., for President General of the National D.A.R. was spoken of by Mrs. Mills, who served with her on the Indiana state D.A.R. board during the time Mrs. Mills was State Registrar for Indiana. The

St. John's Guild of Mt. Prospect meets

Mrs. Harry Hughes, Lake Shore Drive, Chicago, was the guest of the St. John's evening guild of Mt. Prospect May 8 at the home of Mrs. George Adams, Arlington Heights. Mrs. Hughes was the founder of the Evening Guild at Grace church, Oak Park. Being a former member of the church of England, she became engrossed in the work and founding of Evening Guilds. The Guild members were greatly interested in her charming way in which she presented many ideas for the worship, work and study projects for the coming year. She is also now president of the diocesan branch of the Girls' Friendly Society of America.

The members were also honored with the presence of Dean Ganster. His ever charming self gives spiritual strength and guidance to all individuals. Regular meetings of the guild will be dismissed during June, July and August. Special project committee meetings will be called by the president.

election is to take place at the National Congress of D.A.R. to be held in Washington during May, and attended by the local chapter Regent, Mrs. Kenneth W. Gregory.

Officers of the chapter were re-elected to be retained another year, and reports of the state conference in the Drake hotel were heard.

One of the main attractions of the celebration Thursday evening was a large decorated birthday cake, with a single candle, and bearing the name of the chapter and the date of its organization. Tea and coffee were poured from a handsome antique service where spring flowers graced the table.

Food fashions

"Food Fashions for Spring" is the theme of the program which will be presented by Martha Logan, nationally famous home economist for Swift & Company, at a meeting of the Ladies Aid Society of the Arlington Heights First Presbyterian Church May 23. A hostess luncheon will be held in the church dining room, 802 N. Dunton, at 1 p.m., with the program following at 2 p.m. Spring party buffets will be featured throughout the meeting. Miss Logan will show how to prepare easy-to-make garnishes that "glamorize" the most every-day foods. She will also illustrate the preparation and party service of frankfurts, sausages and the popular daisy, as well as an attractive appetizer tray.

Complete recipe information will be distributed and all foods prepared during the lecture-lesson will be given as prizes.

As a member of Swift & Company's home economics department, one of the largest of its kind in the country, Miss Logan is a specialist in improved meat cookery. She devotes much of her time to passing this information on to homemaker groups throughout the country. In addition, she acts as a consultant on the woman's viewpoint to operating and planning departments of her company.

In private life, Miss Logan is Evelyn Johnson, of Ames, Iowa. She is a graduate in home economics of Iowa State College, Ames, Iowa, and a member of the national Home Economists in Business organization.

RAMBLE INN
'N OUTINGS

BILL NORTH

Ramble Inn wants to congratulate all those musicians who went to the State Music Contest in Canton, Illinois. Arlington Heights was certainly well represented for the Boys Chorus won first place while the Triple Trio won a close second in its contest. Dick Arnold, an accomplished and renowned pianist here in Arlington Heights township, took first place at the contest and Jean Faulstich, an equally well known pianist, took second in extremely heavy competition. The contest was held last Friday and Saturday.

—Y. C.—

We're very sorry but we unwittingly omitted the names of four girls who certainly merited recognition for their wonderful work on the April Showers dance.

Dorothy Lehnert was that entrancing flower girl who probably stole your heart away. None of the flowers she sold compared in beauty to her.

Dolores and Beverly Grant and Beverly Freitag were those alluring cigarette girls you saw at the "Showers." They did a swell job and were exceptionally stunning.

Thanks girls.

—Y. C.—

This Friday and Saturday, the Senior Class of Arlington Hts. township high school will present Spring Dance, a play by Phillip Barry. The play, presented by Miss Dorinne Petersen, assisted by Barbara Paulus, is a hilarious comedy that will keep you in the aisles in stitches.

Jo Ann Koester as Alex, Arthur Johnson as Sam, Carl Teutsch as The Lippencot, Mari-lou Richards as Sally and Clarke Robinson, Dick Arnold, Dale Pate, Jean Hansen, Joan Ziedler, Billie Trunkay and Dale Williams all have worked hard and are ready to create live and sparkling characterizations for you. Remember to be there.

All seats are reserved so adults —get your tickets at either Sie-burgs in Arlington Heights or Van Driel's in Mt. Prospect. Students can get theirs at school. Tickets are 60c for reserved seats, 35c for general admission. Get there, you'll have a swell time.

—Y. C.—

Remember that there is coming a gala event which each and every one of you High School students will certainly want to attend. The annual Junior Prom will be held on May 31 from 9:00 p. m. to 12:00. Tickets will be $2.00 per couple. All seniors and dates will be admitted free. Be sure you ask that girl right now. You don't want to be late.

—Y. C.—

Y. C. memberships are going like a house afire. Better than 350 have been sold already. The rest of you had better get your memberships. It will be a really great Youth Center next year. You won't get in on the fun unless you are a member of Ramble Inn.

—Y. C.—

Ramble Inn would like to thank at this time Bill Winn, Bill Reeves, Bill Mueller and Bob Arnold. They have done a great job on the cleanup committee. Thanks a lot, guys.

—Y. C.—

Oh, the end of the year is almost here. And these days may find you dazed of mind; Activities and school work are all piling up. And spring fever makes you as tired as a pup; If a river you think you'll throw yourself into, It's a sin to feel that way. When there's a place to take your cares away, Lay aside your books, forget studies a minute, Go to Ramble Inn. There's fun there, get in it. And remember what all the psychologists say, A dull boy is Jack with all work and no play.

Let's Talk Sense
About Food Prices

In all the talk about lower prices, don't forget this:

Day in and day out, no retailer does a better job of keeping prices down than your food merchant. No food merchant does a better job than A&P.

We would like you to understand two important things about A&P's price situation:

Our net profit during the past five years has averaged only about 1 cent on each dollar of sales. If we were to operate our business without any profit at all, this 1 cent would amount to a saving of less than 4 cents a day on the entire food bill of the average American family.

We sincerely believe that A&P has the lowest cost of distribution of any retail business in the world. When you spend $1.00 in an A&P store, you get 86 cents worth of food and only about 14 cents goes to meet all expenses — wages, taxes, rent, light, heat and the hundreds of other expenses incidental to the stocking and operating of a modern food store — including our very small profit.

Obviously there is little "fat" in such a price structure. Our operating costs and profits are already cut close to the bone.

Merchants generally have reduced prices on many items on which they were overstocked. In recent weeks we have reduced prices on hundreds of such items. That is common merchandising practice and has no relation to a general or permanent price reduction.

While many food prices have already been lowered we must recognize that no substantial general reduction in retail food prices is possible until the cost of food to the retailer is reduced.

As any housewife knows, A&P's business has been built on the policy of selling quality food at the lowest practical price every day.

We pledge to our customers strict adherence to that policy. We will continue to lower our prices as fast as reductions in costs to us and economies in our operations permit.

carneations.

The bride was attended by Miss Virginia Rygel, niece of the groom. Miss Rygel wore a light grey suit with matching accessories and also carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations. John R. Quay, Jr. of Chicago served the groom as best man.

Alice Pfingsten and Eugene Hughes marry

Miss Alice Pfingsten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Pfingsten, of Arlington Heights, became the bride of Eugene Hughes, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Hughes of Gays, Illinois, in a double ring ceremony held at the St. Peter Lutheran church. The nuptial knot was tied by Reverend L. V. Stephan before the church altar, which was banked with palms, ferns, and pink and white snapdragons.

"Take Thou My Hand" and "The Lord Is My Shepherd" were sung by the Misses June and Phyllis Nagel, accompanied by A. Bathje at the organ.

The bride, gowned in white satin, was given in marriage by her father. Her dress was fashioned with fitted bodice, having a beaded sweetheart neckline, full length sleeves, with a full skirt ending in a long train. She wore a beaded tiara. Miss Pfingsten's only jewelry were a pearl necklace, which was a gift from the groom, and a beautiful old bracelet of her grandmother's, which she had worn on her wedding day. Her bridal bouquet was of white carnations and roses. Mrs. Lorna Schroeder served as matron of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were Betty Hughes, sister of the groom, and Shirley Pfingsten and Ruth Linneman, cousins of the bride. They were all attired in silk marquette over satin dresses, each having a different color of the rainbow, blue, green, yellow, and pink. Their bouquets were of pink carnations, outlined with white carnations. They also wore rhinestone bracelets, which were gifts from the bride.

Best man for the bridegroom was Harold Rascher, and acting as ushers were Dean Hughes, brother of the groom; Edgar Pfingster, brother of the bride, and Clarence Wilkening, cousin of the bride. The men all wore tuxedos and had white carnation boutonnières.

The bride's mother wore a powder blue crepe dress and the groom's mother wore a dark blue print dress. Both had corsages of pink carnations.

The Roselle country club was the scene of the wedding reception, which 250 guests attended. Rosie's Band furnished music for dancing. At midnight a delicious buffet supper was served by Mrs. George Roloff and staff.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Risting, Mr. and Mrs. V. M. Weger of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schweer of Readlyn, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Thoms and family of Fairbank, Iowa; Louis Pfingsten and family of Amboy; and Arthur Linnemann and family of Delavan, Wisconsin.

Shower bride and groom

The bride-to-be is often given showers, but it is on rare occasions that the groom-to-be is also showered. The lucky couple were Miss Alice Pfingsten of Arlington Heights, who recently became the bride of Eugene Hughes, also of Arlington.

Miss Pfingsten was showered at a luncheon given for her at the Civic Opera House in Chicago by 45 girls with whom she is employed. Mr. Hughes, who works at the Arlington Heights Roller Mills, was given a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Ray Feddeleer.

Caroline Jaacks, Ralph Taege exchange vows

The wedding ceremony of Miss Caroline Jaacks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Jaacks, and Ralph Taege, son of Reverend and Mrs. Oswald Taege, all of Arlington Heights, was held Saturday at St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran church, at 4:30 o'clock. The double ring ceremony was performed by Reverend Oswald Taege, father of the groom. The church altar was decorated with bouquets of white stocks and before the altar was a white arch trimmed with huckleberry, with palms and ferns around it.

Miss Jaacks was attired in a gown of white satin, with a fitted lace bodice and a wide insert of lace on both sides of the long train. She wore a finger-tip veil and carried a bouquet of calla lilies tied with a bow of white satin ribbon. Mr. Leo Jaacks, attired in a blue striped suit, gave his daughter in marriage.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Marien Jaacks, and acting as bridesmaids were Mrs. Naomi Jaacks and Miss Lorraine Taege. They all wore dresses of blue lace styled with fitted bodices, cap sleeves, full skirts and set off with full length gloves to match. They all wore pearls and rhinestone bracelets, a gift of the bride. Their bouquets were made up of daisies and adiantum fern tied with a bow of blue satin ribbon.

The bride's gift from the groom was a string of pearls and a pair of earrings. The bride gave the groom a radio.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was Richard Taege, brother of the groom. The ushers were Donald and LeRoy Jaacks, brothers of the bride. The groom and his attendants all wore tuxedos and had boutonnières of carnation and fern.

Mrs. Jaacks wore a crepe dress of rose, trimmed with lace, for her daughter's wedding, while the groom's mother was attired in a crepe dress of light blue, trimmed with embroidery. They both had orchid corsages, set off with adiantum fern and tied with orchid ribbon.

The church was filled with relatives and friends from far and near. Among the guests were Mrs. Sophie Jaacks of Des Plaines, and Alvina Moeller of Chicago, both grandmothers of the bride; the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Schumacher of Arlington Heights, formerly of Evanston; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Meyer of Wisconsin, and Mrs. Martha Sternberg of Albuquerque, New Mexico, an aunt of the bride. Other relatives of the bride came from Chicago, Bensenville, Des Plaines, and Arlington Heights. The groom's relatives came from Evanston, Northbrook, Palatine, and Arlington Heights.

During the ceremony Mary Ann Laseke sang "Through the Years," and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Oltmar Kolb at the organ.

At 6:30 a delicious turkey dinner was served at St. Peter's Lutheran school for the bridal party and 60 close relatives and friends. The dinner was prepared by members of the Dorcas Aid. Over 300 guests attended the reception at the field house, which was held at 8:30 in the evening. At 11:30 a buffet luncheon, including a three tier wedding cake, was served.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of the St. Peter Lutheran school and the Arlington Heights Township high school. The bride is employed with the Arlington Heights National Bank. Mr. Taege spent five years in the armed forces and is still employed with Knaack Motor Sales, for whom he worked prior to his army career.

Mr. and Mrs. Taege are now on a ten-day honeymoon trip to the Smoky Mountains and upon their return will make their home with the groom's parents for the present.

The solemn vows were repeated after Rev. W. F. Kamphenkel, who officiated at the ceremony, before the altar of St. John Evangelical and Reformed church.

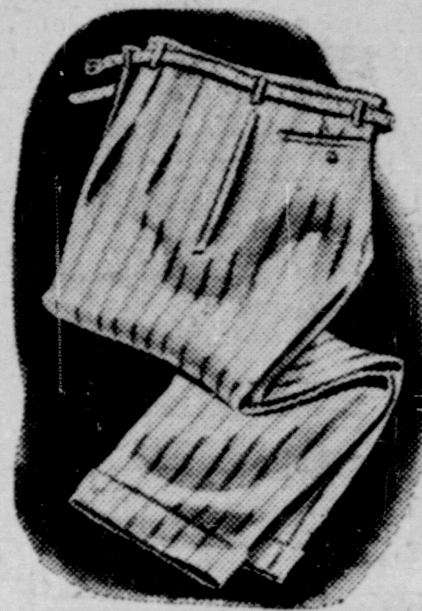

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. She was gowned in a dress of white brocade satin, having a long train, and set off by a fingertip veil held in place by a tiara of pearl orange blossoms. Her colonial bridal bouquet was made up of white carnations.

Miss Geisel was attended by her sister, Mrs. Henry Anthonissen, as matron of honor. She wore a blue marquisette dress and carried a colonial bouquet of blue and white carnations. The two bridesmaids were Miss Lorraine Franciskovich and Mrs.

Spring luncheon ends Woman's club season

The Arlington Heights Woman's Club completed its 60th year with a luncheon and program at the Mt. Prospect Country Club Wednesday, May 7. Mrs. K. L. Kennedy and Mrs. Donald Cox were co-chairmen of the party.

Following the luncheon, Mrs. Carl Ewert, president, welcomed the members and guests. She announced the appointment of Mrs. R. E. Clabaugh as a member of the board of directors in place of Mrs. R. C. Frasier, who has resigned.

Mrs. E. R. Wuerttemburger of Des Plaines, president of the 7th district and Mrs. George Gschwindt of Palatine, 1st vice president, were guests of honor and were introduced by Mrs. Ewert.

Mrs. Ewert, president of the Woman's club for its activity and growth in the past year and stated that the Arlington Heights club led the district in the number of new members who had joined during the current year. In her greetings to the club Mrs. Gschwindt stressed the importance of unity and cooperation to the growth of the club.

Mrs. H. B. Evans, program chairman, had arranged a very entertaining program for the afternoon. She presented Shelby Stewart of Mt. Prospect and Arlington Heights and his accompanist, Mrs. Morris of Libertyville. Mr. Stewart's tenor solos were varied to suit every musical taste and included a dramatic rendering of the Negro spiritual "Gwine to Heaben," an aria from the opera Pagliacci, a ballad "Spirit of Thee" and Jerome Kern's "Thine Alone." His voice was especially pleasing in the last number and the audience was delighted that he chose another hit from a musical show as an encore, Oscar Hammerstein's "The Song is You."

Harriet Allyn, monologist, and star of stage and radio in the personality of "Em" of the radio trio "Clara, Lu and Em," introduced several humorous and pathetic characters to her audience in her program of original character sketches. Miss Allyn is an artist in the field of characterization and impersonation and her characters who came from all sections of the country were real people.

By change of voice and posture, Miss Allyn became the tired Norwegian mother at the county fair with her tow-headed son, Axel, worrying about his

This Month in Your Service BULLETIN

Since June will soon be busting out again, we got to wondering—in our romantic fashion—about things. Why do we throw rice and shoes at newlyweds? Why this third finger, left hand business? And the wedding ring—how about that? Why does the bride wear a veil and carry flowers? Why does she cut the first piece—only—of the wedding cake? Why does the groom carry the little woman over their new threshold? Why? Why? Why? We had to find out! Quickly we sped to the nearest library to poke our nose into a few thousand dusty tomes. Sneezing furiously, we worked our way back, back through the centuries. And now we smugly and deftly maneuver any conversation to WEDDING LORE (the account of our findings now appearing in our June Service Bulletin), gaily illustrated by John McKee.

And on the About You and Your House page you will find some wedding trimmings. A very swish bouquet of white lilacs or madonna lilies. A demure nosegay of white geraniums. Or, instead of a bouquet, the bride may carry a carnation-covered satin muff.

Prospect Hts. man directs Barrington chorus concert

The Barrington Music Club announces that Theodore Lams, of Prospect Heights, well-known organist and director of choral groups, will direct the Barrington Music Club chorus and orchestra at its forthcoming spring concert at the Barrington high school May 24, at 8:15 p.m.
Participants in the chorus and orchestra include residents of many of the surrounding communities in the Barrington area. Prominent townsmen such as Palatine, Wauconda, Crystal Lake, Cary, Algonquin, Arlington Heights, and Des Plaines all join in making the organization one that embraces the entire northwestern suburban area of Chicago.

Mr. Lams is prominent as professor of music theory, church music, and pipe organ at Northwestern University. He also directs the University Women's Glee Club, and is organist and choirmaster for the Redeemer Lutheran Church in Chicago.
Under his expert direction, the chorus of 60 voices has gained local prominence in singing selections of high caliber, with favorable comment by critics in the field of choral endeavor.
Mr. Lams was director of the Chicago Bach chorus in 1937-1942 and assisted the late Dr. Frederick Stock at the North Shore Music Festivals in Evanston.
The community orchestra makes its debut this season and accompanies the chorus in several selections.
An invitation is extended to all music lovers to attend the concert. Tickets will be available from any member of the club or at the Barrington Music and Gift Shop.

Sch'mburg church celebrates its 100th birthday

years later ill health compelled him to resign from the ministry, and he successively became a noted banker in Chicago, lieutenant-governor of Illinois during the Civil War, and a well-known writer under the name "Hans Buschbauer."
His successors and their time of service were as follows:
Rev. J. N. Volkert, 1851-1858; Rev. Frederick Richman, 1858-1869; Rev. Henry Schmidt, 1869-1883; Rev. Gustav Mueller, 1883-1895; Rev. Gottlob Theiss, 1895-1935; Rev. Carl Pfotenhauer, 1935-1940; Rev. Martin Behling, 1940-present.
Church and school
The first house of worship was a frame building erected by the members themselves, each being required to fell a tree, trim it, and bring it to the building-site. It was dedicated to the service of the Triune God in the Fall of 1848 and served as church and school for many years. It still stands today on the property of the congregation.
The present church is a substantial brick building 85 feet long, 40 feet wide, and 22 feet high, with a 127-foot steeple overlooking the countryside. It was erected in 1863—while the Civil War was raging—at a cost of $10,000, not including the work done by the members of that day. By way of comparison, the cost of the partial basement, complete with a modern heating system and sanitary facilities, which the present membership is putting under the church, will probably be in excess of $6,000.
From its very beginning the congregation recognized the Christian education of its children as a duty of prime importance. For that reason it established and maintained down through the years a Christian Day School, where its young might receive the usual elementary training from the Christian viewpoint and on the basis of the Holy Scriptures. At the present time, its West School has an enrollment of 51 children, taught by Mr. Walter Christian and Student Harold Steinke; the 21 children of its East School are instructed by Mr. George Schlie.
On March 23 of this year, the congregation held a special service of thanksgiving for the safe return of all of its 22 war-time service men.
2,020 baptisms
Official acts during the century past include 2,020 baptisms, 1641 confirmations, 629 weddings and 903 funerals. The present congregation numbers 120 voting, 405 communicant, and 525 baptized members.
The anniversary committee in charge of all the jubilee arrangements is composed of Henry Freise, chairman; Rev. M. Behling, Herman Behrens, Henry Berlin, Walter Christian, Emil Clausen, John Freise, Hugo Gerscheske, William Greve, Martin Hattendorf, John Hoyer, Ernst Redeker, William Rohlwing, George Schlie and Albert Straub.
Baptize Gaare son
Last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. William Gaare of Arlington Heights had their son baptized Craig William. The christening was held at the home of the baby's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Gaare, in Palatine, with Reverend W. C. Koester officiating. Sponsors for Craig were Mrs. Henry Collignon and Harold Gieseke of Arlington Heights and Leona Gaare of Palatine.
Following the baptism a dinner was served to the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gieseke, maternal grandparents of Craig; Harold Gieseke, Leona Gaare, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Collignon and sons, Gerald and David; Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Koester, Mrs. Carl Larsen, great-grandmother of the baby, and Raymond Graff of Lake Zurich.
For the christening Craig wore the same dress worn by his father at his baptism 29 years ago.

Enjoy Chicago trip
Six members of the Arlington Heights Camp Fire girls and their guardian, Miss Harriet Roney, spent last Saturday afternoon in Chicago. They visited the Camp Fire office, Burgess' Handcraft and Denisons, looking for things that they themselves would like to make.
The mothers of the girls were not forgotten as each girl purchased a lovely and thoughtful gift for her mother. They returned home tired, but full of new ideas.
The girls have begun work on the first rank, that of Trail Seeker. One girl is working on her Wood Gatherers rank.
Arlington Heights girls interested in joining the Camp Fire Girls should attend the next meeting which will be this Friday night, at 7 p. m. at the Methodist church.

Dorothy Cooper, Bill Hull married

At a lovely ceremony planned around the simplicity and beauty of white and purple lilacs, Miss Dorothy Jean Cooper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O. Cooper, was married from her parents' colonial home in Arlington Heights on the afternoon of May 10, to Mr. William Latimer Hull, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hull, also of Arlington Heights. White lilacs were chosen by the bride as the theme for her wedding since those in the garden of her home have been a source of much pleasure to her during her maturing years.

Preceding the ceremony the guests heard three musical favorites of the bride: "Clair De Lune" by Debussy; "Liebestraum" by Liszt; and "Ave Maria" by Bach. From the moment that one heard the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March and saw the maid of honor descending the stairs to the living room one felt the key note of simplicity and beauty which was demonstrated throughout the wedding. The bride was escorted from the stairs by her father to the groom who was waiting with his attendant by the fireplace in the living room. Consistent with the theme of white lilacs the bride wore a full skirted floor length dress of white embroidered organza over a hoop skirt of white satin. Her bouquet was a round mass of compact gardenias, surrounded by lilies of the valley. The only concession made to usual wedding costume was a fingertip veil with a tiara of orange blossoms.

Miss Cooper was attended by her sister, Barbara Jane Cooper, whose dress of deep blue velvet embroidered organza was similar in design to the white dress worn by the bride. She carried a round bouquet of pale pink carnations. Mr. Hull was attended by Mr. Ben Thoman, a former resident of Arlington Heights.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Father George Stier as the bridal party stood before the mantle on which the only decoration was a large bowl of double lilacs. On the floor on either side of the fireplace were large urns of white stock and snap dragons which flowers were used to supplement the lilacs of which there were large bouquets elsewhere in the home.

The mother of the bride wore a navy costume and the groom's mother was dressed in shades of violet. Both mothers had corsages of roses.

A reception for the seventy guests followed the service. Here in the dining room the close friends and relatives of the bride and groom were served from a dining table which had in its center a beautiful tiered wedding cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Hull are on a two week motor trip which will take them through the Smoky Mountains to a final week in Georgia. The couple will reside in Maywood, this location being convenient to the Veterans Administration hospital at Hines, where the bride is employed as a secretary. Mr. Hull spent several months overseas with the Marines. Both before and since the war he has been employed by the Illinois Bell Telephone Company in Chicago.

Among the out of town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bates of Lady Lake, Florida.

Wheeling girl to be married May 24

St. Peter's Evangelical church, Northbrook, will be the setting for the marriage on Saturday, May 24, of Miss Ruby Cole of Wheeling and Howard Clavey, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Clavey, East Lake avenue, Glenview. The Rev. Armin Bizer will officiate.

Miss Cole has asked Miss Lois Anderson of Wheeling to serve as maid of honor. John Goetsche of Glenview will be best man and ushers will be John Kelly of Des Plaines and Richard Ross of Chicago.

A small reception will take place at the Otto Anderson home in Wheeling after the ceremony. Des Plaines will be the home of the newlyweds.

Two sisters

Although the two little girls pictured above are sisters, both with blonde hair and blue eyes, there is a difference in their individual natures. Jeanne, age 3, is the gay and lively one. This can be seen from the look of eagerness shown in her face. Julianne, age 6, is the quiet one. She is always well poised and provides a contrast to her ever active sister. The parents of the two girls are Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Zimmerman, 311 N. Had-dow, Arlington Heights.

Married May 3

Chesley L. Rapp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rapp, and grandson of Mrs. Lucy Rapp, Arlington Heights, was married May 3 to Miss Barbara Jean Zimmerman of Maywood. The wedding took place at seven p. m., at the Plymouth Congregational church of Maywood.

MACSAYS
BY GERALD McELROY

Saturday the district meets all over Illinois will be held except in the case of sites equipped with lights which will mean Friday night competition. Most of the schools of this area will be competing at Evanston with a larger number of athletes than usual from the Northeast and Northwest Conference having a chance to win medals and some to go down to the state meet. From our observation Dan Jones of Antioch might go to the state meet in both the pole vault and the high jump. Bill Kleiner of Arlington is a good prospect for a top place in the broad jump and should get a medal in the high jump.

Berschet of Arlington has only No repeat his 138 foot discus toss of last week to go to the big meet at 135 feet automatically qualifies. Libertyville's shot putters, Black and Schroeder, have both exceeded the state qualifying mark of 47 ft. Niles' fine runners, Pask, in the 100 and 220, Wettengel and Brice in the mile and 880, Farr in the 440, Horton and Heiniger in the hurdles, and the 880 relay team of Farr, Pask, Penner, and Horton will all be state prospects and should be with the leaders at Evanston.

Niles defends Northeast crown
next Tuesday night
Next week, between the district and state meets, the Northeast and Northwest conferences will hold their annual league meets. The Northeast, which is due for some more new records, will hold their meet under the lights at Niles. The host school is the odds on favorite to win the meet. Last year the Trojans won the title for the first time and it will not be anywhere near that close. Based on Niles' Palatine relays victory and their recent decisive victory over Arlington and Leyden in a triangular meet, the Trojans look like champs by 10 or more points. The Northeast meet will be Tuesday, May 20.

Three not hit games in N. W. Conference
It has been years since a no hit pitching performance has shown up in the Northwest Conference and now with the play-off season only half over three have been recorded. Simon and Floyd of Northbrook each have one. Simon shut out Ela 8-0.

On Wednesday May 21, the Northwest conference twilight meet will be run off at Palatine. Antioch appears to be the class of the league. They have easily whipped all teams in the conference.

New records appear to be in order in the pole vault. Dan Jones set a record of 10 feet 10 1/2 inches last year but has been vaulting consistently over 11 feet since. Jones can also break the high jump mark if he does as well as his best effort, and if track conditions and weather are right should come close to the high or low hurdles mark, whichever he chooses to run. Jones could win five events but the league rule limits competition to three. Yes, it looks very much like Dan Jones night at Palatine next Wednesday.
Predict Clark vs. Pask will produce new dash marks
The Northeast conference has a lineup of fine marks as you can see if you look at the list on

NE Tuesday

under lights;
NW Wednesday

The Northeast and Northwest Conferences are priming for their annual track and field meets to be held next week. The Northeast will be held at Niles Tuesday night at 8:00 p.m. with preliminaries to be run off at 4:30 in the afternoon. The Northwest is carded as a twilight meet at Palatine, starting at 6:00 p.m. on Wednesday.
Seven schools will compete in the Northeast meet, with Niles, the host school and defending champ, the favorite to repeat. Chief rivals of Coach Hussey's Trojans will be Arlington, coached by W. J. Creamer, and Leyden, directed by L. W. St. John. Other schools in the meet are Lake Forest, Libertyville, Crystal Lake and Woodstock.
Some of the best athletes in the state will be competing in the Northeast Conference meet. Among the outstanding athletes are Clark, Quaranta, and Barnes of Leyden. Clark was winner of the 100 and 220 last year, while Quaranta broke the 880 record and won the mile. Barnes is the Palatine Relays discus champ.
Niles has outstanding boys in Pask, Farr, Horton, and Permer, who run on a relay team likely to break the record. Likewise Pask in the 100 and 220, Farr in the 440, and Wettengel in the mile are among the best at their events in Illinois. Arlington Heights has a consistently good broad jumper and high jumper in Bill Kleiner. Libertyville has two extra fine shot putters in Black and Schroeder.

Antioch The Northwest Favorite
Antioch is favored to win the Northwest Conference meet at Palatine, which involves five schools. In addition to Antioch's Palatine Relays champs, the entries are Barrington, defending champ; Bensenville, who has won the league three times; Palatine, who won three straight in 1941-42; and Grant, who revived track as a sport last season.

Marks in dual meets in the Northwest Conference have this year hit a standard above that for several seasons and good marks which may include several new records are expected next Wednesday.
Antioch's strong team, which includes Dan Jones, a sure three event winner, and the Mattson brothers, Arthur, January, and others, is expected to dominate the meet in winning first places. Jones may break records in the pole vault, high jump, and high hurdles.

Palatine's best bets for first places are Don Weinacht in the shot put, Henry Spoo in the discus, and Harold Stephan in the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Bensenville's best boy is Pittman in the weight events.
Kersel of Barrington is rated as the best miler in the meet and a defending champ at that distance. Barrington has a good 220 or 440 man in Bell and a large number of average boys who can break into the scoring. A big sophomore, Van Steendren, got a place in the Palatine Relays discus throw and will be a threat. Medals are being given as awards in both league meets this year and with competition keener than ever both should be fine sports attractions, weather permitting.

Palatine frosh score in north shore meet
Palatine scored seven points in the North Shore Frosh-Soph track meet at Evanston Saturday. Marvin Newport won second in the 660 yard run in a very close race. Dick Collignon got second in the discus throw with a toss of 108 feet. Frank Orzolek took a fourth in the high hurdles. Jim Kenzie got into the finals of the 100 yard dash but did not place. The showing of the Palatine boys was better than is usual for small schools at this big meet.
Hunt of Bensenville was the only Bison to score for the DuPage county school when he tied for first in the pole vault at nine feet.

Redwings bunch 21 hits to trim Cullertons, 13-3

The Arlington Redwings were hotter than the weather last Sunday afternoon gathering an assortment of 21 hits in the process of overwhelming the Alderman Cullertons' midwest league entry, 13-3.
There was little time wasted getting the scoring under way as the Redwings began crossing the plate in the first inning and kept up the procession until the end of the fifth inning when they held a 10-2 advantage.
With Earl Simpson, the flashy first baseman of two years ago back at his position the local club looked especially good defensively. Schaefer in seven innings on the mound allowed 6 hits and 3 runs. Bruce Clark relieved Schaefer for the last two innings holding the visitors hitless although his wildness put three men on base.
The visitors found Schaefer's strike out ball in excellent form and eleven of the Chicago lads were victims. The Cullertons did have a moment of high hope in the second inning when their shortstop hit a long drive into right center field. It was good for three bases but he decided to stretch it into a home run, only to be caught sliding into home when Stroker, the Redwings right fielder, and Kirchhoff the second baseman, coupled two great throws in a relay to Schiewe the catcher who was waiting with the ball as the runner slid home.

With the multitude of hits sent to every corner of the park there were several hitting sars. Gene Stucker collected a double and two singles and Kirchhoff added a triple and two singles to his four hits gathered in the first game of the season. His total is 7 out of 10 for the two games and is the most impressive average on the team.
Next Sunday the McCook, Ill. team comes to Arlington. The visitors are members of the Midwest League and expect to end the Redwings one game winning streak. It is probable that Lenny Ganshirt, the Redwings left handed pitcher will start the game. He was kept out of last Sunday's game because of a serious infection in the palm of his pitching hand which prevented him from properly gripping the ball.
Very probably Schaefer and Clark will also see some pitching duty so that all three hurlers will get into shape for the stiff competition being lined up to prepare the Redwings for the Midwest League tournament later in the season.
Score by innings:
Redwings 1 3 1 5 0 0 0 3 x-13
Cullertons 0 0 0 2 0 1 0 0 0-3

Arlington golfers end win streak with tie

by MARVIN PRELLBERG
The Arlington Varsity golfers had an 'off' day last Thursday when they traveled to Waukegan, played at the Glen Flora Country Club and had to settle for a resulting tie at 10 1/2-10 1/2. This tie stopped the Cardinal linksmen's winning streak at 5 straight.
One factor which may have hindered the Cards in doing their best was that the weather was very nippy, the course was unknown to the Arlington squad and the numerous creeks, traps and trees did much toward adding to the scores.
George Payne of Heights carded the low score as he paired a 2 over par 38 and a 42 for an 80. Dodich of Waukegan was the next low man as he tallied an 81.
The Junior Varsity also came out of the match deadlocked with Waukegan at 7 1/2 to 7 1/2. This also stopped the Junior Cards' winning streak at 2, having formerly beaten Waukegan and Bensenville by good margins. Three men were tied for low net at 90; namely, Chuck Dresser of Arlington and Glogawsky and Sandberg of Waukegan.
The Arlington freshmen, playing their first match were beaten by the Waukegan frosh 14-1. Besander was the only boy tallying a point for Arlington.

Rob Roy twilight golf league
Cloudy skies appeared on the scene again Tuesday night and for a while threatened to postpone the matches scheduled as had been the case May 6. However, the golfers could not be discouraged by a few drops of rain and clouds overhead and most matches were played as scheduled. Those matches not played will be played before Sunday and the points added to the team totals.

Bensenville beats Grant on diamond

Bensenville continued its winning ways Friday afternoon of last week when they started and ended strong to beat Grant high on the latter's diamond, 4-0. This was the third conference victory for the Bisons, as against no defeats.
Holstrum led off the game with a walk, and was sacrificed to second by Keller. Borg then notched a single, scoring Holstrum. Hhollander walked. Borg meanwhile going to third. He scored on Vulgar's long fly.
Only other scoring occurred in the last frame when Keller hit safely after Holstrum had struck out, went to second on Borg's third hit of the afternoon, and scored on Thollander's double. Borg scored on Vulgar's fielder's choice, though the play was made at the plate.
Tykowski pitched two innings for Grant, allowing three hits, permitting five safeties.
Pitching honors for the Bisons were divided between Steffen and Thollander, the former tossing three innings and striking out three. Thollander fanned four, but both pitchers allowed one hit.

Softball league opens at Arlington Monday

The indoor baseball season gets underway at Arlington Heights with a bang Sunday, May 18, with Nick's Bender Benders meeting the Mt. Prospect A. C. From then on the fans will be treated to about four games a week, leaving a couple of nights open so they can play postponed games if necessary.
Monday, May 19 will bring together two new entrants into the league, namely Haseman's from Palatine and City Cab of Arlington. Another new sponsor is Benny's Tavern. The other four teams in the league consisting of Rose Lo, last year's champs, Nick's Bender Benders, Mt. Prospect A. C., El Rando are holdovers from last year.

There will probably be many new faces on the different teams, but each squad will present a formidable lineup on the field, and from all indications no one team will make it a runaway this year. We look for a nip and tuck battle right down to the wire.
Now to all you dyed-in-the-wool indoor fans, let's get behind the boys and support the league. Get out and see as many games as you can and root for your favorite team. The boys are giving of their time and efforts to put up a good brand of ball, and you must agree we have seen some pretty swell ball games at the park. Let's make this a banner season by being in your favorite seat each night when the umpire calls play ball. Don't forget the opening game date, May 18. Starting time is 7:00 o'clock. See you then.

Crystal Lake wins 3-way track meet

Balanced power and team depth enabled Crystal Lake high score 83 1/2 points Thursday to win a triangular meet at Criswith 75 points and Harvard scored

Barrington plays Wauconda to washout

Barrington's baseball squad played Wauconda to a washout
Tuesday afternoon of last week, with the Bronchos having 11 runs at the time. The game was called after three innings and two outs in the fourth frame, with the bases loaded for Barrington.

One more out was necessary for a complete game, but Barrington will be given the decision unless first place position at the end of the season depends on this game, in which case it will be replayed. Dietrich had allowed no hits and struck out six of ten batters. One walked.

Cardinal nine noses out Barrington, 3-1

by MARVIN PRELLBERG

Gail Bach, Arlington's star shortstop and substitute twirler, pitched himself a three-hitter last Wednesday at Barrington in the cold spring weather and allowed only one run to enable the Cards to nose out Barrington by a count of 3-1.

This contest was sweet revenge for the Cards, because Barrington had previously taken the measure of the Cardinals in a shut-out contest 3-0.

Arlington didn't waste any time in tallying their first run.
Burton Dahlstrom, the first man up, was thrown out, but Bob Wille let four balls go by and walked to first. He then took second on a passed ball and was in scoring position. Shorty Wilkins then bore down and fanned Al Stroger for the second
out. However, Gail Bach, clean-up hitter, furnished the trouble for Shorty as he hit a grounder to the shortstop, which was fumbled, and enabled Bach to reach first and Wille to round the bases for run number one.
Bill Robinson then grounded out to finish the inning.

Jeppson started things out right for the Bronchos with a single, going to second on a hit by Doenecke, and stealing third, but being cut off attempting to come home on a slow roller to Bach.

Arlington chalked up another run in the next frame on a walk and a stolen base by George Payne and a one-bagger by Burton Dahlstrom. However, Barrington tallied in that inning, also, for its only run. This was accomplished when Luschen got on safely on an error, went to second when Webber walker, stealed third, and scored on the second hit by Jeppson. The score then stood 2-1 in favor of the Cards.

The women's City Cab team of Arlington Heights, made up of Eva Trava, Helen Scheich, Clara Carlson, Betty Riebe and Elsie Cush, made a neat showing in the Women's Fifth Annual Northern Illinois Bowling tournament held in Elgin, which ended May 11.
The City Cab girls rolled a total of 2834 pins, missing first place by 32 pins and second place by three pins, settling for third place in the tournament.

'Clean up' slogan sought for prize at Highland Park

At certain strategic spots in Highland Park containers have been placed to be used for all loose papers. On these containers is to be printed a slogan, which movement is the beginning of a year round effort to keep the city clean.

The public is invited to take part in this contest. The winning slogan will rate a $25.00 award.

Card J-Vs beat Barrington, Niles

by MARVIN PRELLBERG

The Arlington Junior Varsity made short work of Barrington last Monday as they collected 5 hits and 9 runs while Chuck Johnson was allowing only two hits and three runs.

The game was called at the end of the fourth because of heavy rain.

The Cards collected two of their tallies the first time at bat when Bob Dieber got a hit, stole second and third and scored on a hit by Eugene Busse. Engel-king, who had walked, also scored on Busse's single.

Arlington's big inning came in the third as four Cardinals tallied on three hits, a walk, and a hit by a pitched ball. Barrington tallied a lone run in this frame when Brockway walked and scored on a hit by Jeppson.

Heights scored three more times in the fourth when Engel-king, Schaeffer and Busse again crossed home accounting for the 9 runs. The Bronchos also check-ed in with two runs in that inning with Tukey and Walthoosen doing the scoring.

Beat Niles

Friday afternoon the JayVees played host to Niles and sent the Skokie boys home with a thrilling 4-3 defeat. Niles tied the score in both sixth and seventh innings, but Arlington matched them in each frame to win the game.

With regular pitcher Chuck Johnson ill, freshman Ray Huffman accomplished a very good five hit performance against Niles. He struck out 8 and walked 1, allowing 1 run in the third, as well as 1 in each of the last two innings.

The Cards grabbed two runs in the opening stanza, and rested on their laurels until the sixth, when Lefty Engelking homered to break the tie. In the final session Lloyd Meyer singled, but was caught at the plate after Striggow's triple, who

Warren got off to a 1-0 lead in its half of the first when Haglund singled to right center, stole second, and was knocked in by White, who hit a double also in right center.

The Cards tied it up in their half of the inning, however, when Burton Dahlstrom beat out a beautiful bunt down third, stole second and third, and came home on a sizzling double down
the left field line by Gail Bach.

Arlington collected 3 more tallies in the last of the second on 1 hit. George Payne and Marv Berschet tallied 2 of the runs after being walked. Uayne was knocked home from second on a single by Elmer Wille with Berschet taking 3rd. Al Stroker then grounded to second scoring Berschet while Wille went to third. Bob Wille then drove in Elmer when the shortstop, De-Loof, booted a grounder.

The third and fourth went scoreless but in the fifth Warren tallied its last marker off Bill Robinson, after Tom Nadehoffer had walked, went to second when Hart received a base on balls, and scored on a drive to left by Bandle Robinson and Bach scored for the Cards also in that frame. Bach, after getting his second straight hit, scored on an error by the shortstop and Robinson was forced across when Bill Lancilotti was hit by a pitched ball with the bases full.

Arlington's last run was recorded in the 6th when Bob Wille crossed home on a triple by Gail Bach, his 3rd straight hit.
The final calculation was 7-2 with Arlington the victor.

Barrington misplays aid Northbrook in 5-0 NW victory

Barrington dropped out of the lead in the Northwest Conference baseball standings last Friday when they threw away a ball game to Northbrook by a 5-0 score. Three bases on balls, three passed balls and three errors gave Northbrook four runs in the first inning. They counted again in the fourth when the Broncho right fielder dropped a pop fly. Jeppsen, who is leading the team in hitting with a .391 average got Barrington's only safe hit. According to the Barrington book Northbrook won the game without a safe hit but Northbrook scored themselves as getting three hits. Dietrich on the mound for Barrington fanned eight and walked five and allowed no hits, according to the Barrington report. Simon struck out 10, walked one, and allowed one Broncho, Jeppsen, to hit safely.

Roque of Leyden won the pole vault, high jump, and broad jump while Turner took the 100, 220 and 440. With the score Niles 50 Leyden 59 the relay won by Niles decided the meet.

without a bingo in the league opener. Tuesday Floyd hurled a no hitter against Wauconda as his mates hit heavy for a 11-0 victory.

Dietrich, ace Barrington twirler, held Wauconda without a safety the previous week. Simon of Northbrook also has a one hit game to his credit in a 5-0 whitewash of Barrington. It appears to be a pitchers' year in the Northwest Conference. No taking any credit away from the hurlers but we wonder just how much hitting practice most of the teams have had this spring. Surely not enough to be in form for good pitching.

Simon and Floyd, ace Northbrook pitchers, hurled their team into a contending position in the Northwest Conference this past week. Floyd pitched a no hit game against Wauconda as the Vikings won 11-0.

Only two men reached first, one on a walk and another on an error. Lesch, Northbrook shortstop, led the hitting with three of the Vikings' nine bingos.

Last Friday Simon, who had pitched a no hitter earlier in the season, turned in a one hit masterpiece to shut out Barrington 5-0. Northbrook got only three hits in making five runs of Barrington pitching star, Dietrich. It was Barrington's first league defeat. Northbrook has lost only to Bensenville 2-0 in an abbreviated game called short by rain.

Zion outscores Northbrook, 7-3
Unlimbering a concentrated 11-hit assault behind the five-hit twirling of Lloyd Pierson at Sportsman park in Zion, Coach T. Ray Miller's Zion-Benton Zee-Bees recorded their fourth victory of the campaign, defeating the Northbrook Vikings, 7 to 3, last week.

After spotting the visitors a 2-0 lead in the second inning, the Zee-Bees got to Chucker Floyd for one run in the last half of the same inning and then came from behind with a three-run blast in the third stanza. They clinched the decision in the fourth period with a five-hit, three-run sortie.

Bach's grand slam beats St. Mary's for Card nine
After billing the game as strictly a "practice session," Arlington's Cardinal baseball team had a mighty tough time Monday afternoon to nose out St. Mary's of Des Plaines, 6-4, on the local field. Reserves started the game for Coach Grace, but the regulars had to be inserted in order to win.

Marvin Berschet started the mound duties, allowing two runs in both the second and third frames, although just one hit was fashioned from his efforts. The rest were gained through errors.

The bottom of the third inning, with the Cards behind 4-2, bases loaded and two out, pinch hitter Gail Bach cleaned the sacks with a home run to right. This blow gave the locals the contest.

Gail then went to the mound and hurled the last four innings, allowing just one St. Mary's man to reach first on a walk. Bach, of course, was the winning pitcher in the Card's fifth straight win, giving Arlington a 7-2 record for the season.

St. Mary's unveiled a fine left hander in Melone, who allowed just three hits, the other Card tallies resulting from errors.

Remaining games for Coach Grace's charges are Leyden here Friday, the sub-district and district play May 19-24, and Niles at a later date.

Bison nine beats York high, 3-1
Bensenville high school's baseball team took the measure of York high Wednesday of last week, 3-1. Don Borg pitched for the locals, the game going just 6 innings.

Arlington Golfers down Niles 9 1/2-5 1/2

Playing on the Mt. Prospect Country club course last Monday afternoon, the Arlington golfers downed Niles in a return match by a count of 9 1/2-5 1/2, being forced to end the matches at the end of 13 full holes due to a quick downpour of rain. This chalked up the 6th victory for the Cards, along with a tie at Waukegan last week.

The top match of the day between George Payne of Arlington and Dombrowski of Niles ended with Dombrowski on top at the 13th after deadlocking with Payne on the first nine with 38's. Tom Stockdale had the next low round of the day as he carded a 40 to total 3 points for Heights.

The Arlington linksmen are gunning toward their biggest chance this Saturday when they travel to Highland Park to compete in the district meet. Coach C. R. Larson will bring along eight men. They will probably be as follows: Payne, Rascher, Stockdale, McDonald, Becker, Robinson, Rowader and Haake.

Results
Payne (A) 1/2, Dombrowski 2 1/2.
Rasher (A) 2 1/2, Bobawsky 1/2. Stockdale (A) 3, Hagerty 0. McDonald (A) 3, Pucior 0. Becker (A) 1/2, La Plant 2 1/2.

Leyden's Parizeh and Burton showed the way with three hits each in four times at bat. The lone Leyden error was made by Ballig at shortstop while the Streaks committed five boots, including two each by Bob Dodge and Glen Behler. Catcher Jim Olson collected two of Woodstock's four hits.

Des Plaines defeats Mount Prospect

After two victories the Robins (Mt. Prospect) received their first trimming from the Suckers (Des Plaines) final score 3 to 7. The accident happened in the second when the visitors gobbled four runs. The batterers were pretty evenly matched and had Baker received good support the finish would have been entirely different. Seven errors and two boners threw away the game.

Rudolph, Des Plaines, wobbled different times, but Mt. Prospect seemed over-confident to take advantage of the chances. Gnad, Mt. Prospect made a great one hand stab 20 feet from first base; in the eighth he was hit by a pitched ball that may lay him up some time. The umpire did good work on bases with three doubtfuls over the plate.

Tries to get oil for Palatine roads

Alderman Bruhns has been doing his utmost to get some road oil for Palatine and if there is any of such oil to be bought in the market he means to get it. The Standard Oil Co. and other companies who have hitherto had the oil for sale have left the market, probably by diverting the oil to other channels where it will bring more money.

Thus even dusty streets may be blamed on the war. However, Mr. Bruhns has one other chance which he is following up on as he is not going to disappoint the Palatine housewives if he can possibly avoid it.

Offers to help build hall at Arlington

Joseph Catlow, proprietor of the famous Catlow Opera House at Barrington (said to be the finest and best equipped public hall between Chicago and St. Paul) was at Arlington Heights Monday buying shrubbery and flowers for his lot at Barrington.

He told the editor that his new hall is paying well and if Arlington Heights people would take stock in an opera house company, he would be glad to go in with them if a suitable lot, centrally located, can be secured for same at a reasonable price. Yes, Arlington needs a large public hall and now is a good time to plan for one equal to the present and future needs of the community.

$2.00 a year after July 1

This war strikes America as well as Europe. The Chicago daily papers have all raised their prices and if the government levies the proposed heavy revenue taxes and raises the rates of postage, we will be obliged to raise our subscription price July 1 to $2 a year.

Many newspapers have already been forced to quit business by the high cost of paper which has doubled the past year, but we have a superior equipment and good patronage and can hold out as long as anybody. All subscriptions paid in advance before July, 1917, will not be affected by the raise in price.

To organize boys and girls

Mr. McFadden is working in Arlington Heights interesting boys and girls in the garden work. Classes are being formed and the children will be given practical instructions in gardening. They will make a study of the soil, the crops, pests, diseases, remedies.

Other clubs are also being formed for the study of young cooking, sewing. McFadden is principal of a school near Evanston and has been working these clubs successfully several years. It is now his purpose to interest them throughout Cook county.

Attempt made to revive Palatine

As we go to press a public mass meeting is being held in the village hall to instill new life into the Palatine Commercial association. There are some discouraging facts that are staring this town in the face and the formation of a live commercial association is the only cure. No town or person can live on past glory.

A few years ago Palatine was the only live town in these parts. Today—? There is no need of shutting our eyes and not believing facts until the sheriff closes out the town. Those are indeed hard words to even hint at Palatine, but if you question their truth, visit any or all of the neighboring places, learn what they are doing there, count the teams on the streets during business hours and then—come back home, listen to the hammers going their merry pace and ask yourself, why?

Tales of the STREET

BY T. C. HART

SPRING AT LAST

A beautiful week end finally ushered in the long belated spring and gardeners and farmers made the most of the nice weather and went to work full blast in their gardens and on the farms.

It's a late spring, but a streak of good weather like that over the week end will go a long way toward making everyone forget the long cold rainy months while we were anxiously waiting for spring to come.

SNOW APPLES

Tomatoes used to be called love apples, but Fred Blume is liable to raise some this year that will be snow apples. One of those cold raw days last week we met Fred with a package of tomato plants that he was going to set out.

Three freezing nights followed but Fred insists that those plants are doing all right. He must have put a hot water bottle or an oil lamp near each plant during that freezing weather, but if he pulls them through he'll surely have some early tomatoes.

LARGE PLANTING

Sunday we saw a large field of several acres where tomato plants had been set out. That farmer was sure an optimist who was trying to hit the high prices of an early market, but he was also surely an optimist to take a chance on so large a planting so early in the season.

We also heard of a pretty sizeable planting of pepper plants which froze and the grower at once replanted. He was more of an optimist than the tomato grower.

FARMERS AND STRIKES

We talked to a farmer the other day who had been turned back while taking his milk to the loading platform during the short drivers strike. He was rather burned up and who could blame him.

A farmer works 14 to 16 hours a day and a lot of hours on Sunday also and these strikes for five days weeks, shorter hours and more pay get under his hide. "What we ought to do," said this farmer, "is sell the cows, plant just enough stuff to live on ourselves and then let those birds see how they get along."

If the farmers ever do resort to such a policy, the rest of humanity would sure be in a bad way but no one could blame the farmers for doing just that.

TAX COMPLAINTS

The tax collectors are hearing thousands of complaints these days about high taxes. One fellow solved the whole problem the other day when he said, "Well, we would dance and now we've got to pay the fiddler. People these days want more services from the various governments, better schools, etc., and all this has to be paid for and that's the reason for our high taxes."

"After all it isn't the valuations that are set by the local assessor, the county or the state that counts, it's the actual amount of money levied by the various taxing bodies that tells the story. That money has to be raised regardless of what the valuations are, if the valuation is high the tax rate is low, if the valuation is low, the tax rate is high.

"The money for government has to be raised and as long as the public demands everything, tax levies will be large and taxes will be high." That gentleman's statement tells the whole story of high taxes.

Palatine taxpayers can still smile in comparison with neighboring towns. The Palatine rate is still 47 cents per $100 valuation, less than Arlington Heights and 25 cents per $100 less than Mt. Prospect. The days of low taxes are gone forever. Next year they will be higher and from then on out the size of the tax bill will depend entirely upon the demands for service upon the governmental units by the people themselves.

THOSE 1000 ACES

Somehow or other we are always running up against those 1000 acres in a pinocchio game. A short time ago it was Morris Littlejohn that held seven acres and caught the eighth one in the "widow."

Then the other night it was George Butler that repeated that performance. But those eight acres never have got together in our hand. We've had seven once or twice, but that final one is never in the "widow" when we go after it.

Our time should be about due. We're getting tired of seeing those birds have all the luck. The so called law of averages should prevail one of these fine days.

OLD SILVER

The other day we saw Mrs. Helen Ullock admiring some beautiful silverware that she was unpacking out of a box. We asked if she were going into the silverware business and she told us the story of that silver.

Those pieces were over 115 years old and had been handed down through her family for generations to the oldest daughter. In that line of succession they had come to her.

She said that they became badly tarnished during the years until they were relegated to the basement and that every time they moved Mr. Ullock would ask what to go with the old cans.

"Bring them along," was always her reply and then recently she decided to have them replated. It turned out to be a wonderful job and now that old silverware of over 115 years ago is one of the most beautiful sets of silver a person could want to see.

SPRING EFFORT

The other afternoon we ran across Arthur Filkins of Inverness in the drug store standing at the end of the counter having a sandwich and a cup of coffee. "It doesn't cost any more to sit down," we told him and his reply was, "Well, I don't know. I've been working around that lawn and garden today and I'm kind of afraid to sit down for fear I'll never get to working again."

Such is the result of this spring weather that brings all sorts of unused muscles into play for the first time in months and there are a whole lot of us in the same boat as brother Filkins. We aren't sure of getting going again after tearing loose around the garden and lawn.

IT SNOWED

That cactus plant that Paul Hanke was getting ready to burn up, throw out or something was right. We did have a snow squall one morning last week to confirm the prediction of that blame plant.

But at last the weather is acting like a real spring should act and we hope that those darn cactus plants will now fold up and get dormant until next winter and that we don't have a snow squall that would cactus again until next December, if then.

Decries lack of action on part of citizens in supporting national cancer fund drive

CANCER

It has been said that "truth is stranger than fiction." And the facts about cancer are certainly more startling than any fiction we might create.

One of every two families in America is struck by this cruel disease. Consider this in terms of Chicago, your street your own neighborhood and the horror of it can hit pretty close to home.

12,600 people in Illinois will die this year from cancer. This scourge on American health claims more lives than even the devastation of war. The death rate is mounting at such an alarming rate that it becomes the responsibility of every American to do his full part in the peace-time battle against a relentlessly advancing enemy.

There is realistic hope for victory if we all ACT NOW. The American Cancer Society tells us that 4,000 to 6,300 Illinois lives can be saved each year if we take immediate steps toward providing the necessary education, research and service. Chicago's share in the Society's 12 million dollar national goal is $606,000.

Your contribution will help men and women of the danger signals that may warn of incipient cancer. Through early diagnosis and prompt treatment their lives may be saved.

Your gift will help provide more adequate facilities for the prevention, diagnosis and treatment of cancer.

Your support will help further scientific research aimed toward advancing effective treatment methods and perhaps even eliminating this Number One Enemy to health.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

by LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL
The other day a bus driver, due to start on his scheduled daily work, no sooner got his bus outside of the garage than he turned it South—and never stopped until he got to Florida. He even spent all of his own money to buy oil for the bus. He arrived in Florida broke—but somehow I cannot but feel that he was filled with an inner satisfaction that for the time compensated for the rashness of his act.

We are all brothers to this man. The thing he was seeking was freedom from responsibility, freedom from time clocks and schedules. Time and again I have heard the famous expression, "Oh, if I could only get away and leave it all!" Women get tired of children, cooking meals, cleaning house. Men, thoroughly disgusted with paying bills, watch the geese flying Northward in the spring, and yearn for the freedom their flight seems to express. In extreme cases, people drift into fantasy to escape reality, and render completely to their dreams until their dreams become reality and the restrictions of organized society no longer exists for them. The Napoleons, the wealthy industrialists, the imaginary great pianist, statesmen, orators that one finds in the insane asylums are the pathetic results of individual attempts to escape from the boredom of reality.

But no matter how hard he tries, no sane person can escape responsibility. We are in this world, so we must make the best of it.

I sometimes get to thinking as I walk about my route how nice it would be to get into some business for myself, to get away from schedule, from silly departmental rulings and regulations. I become so disgusted that I would like to chuck everything and go back to the farm. What I fail to realize in such moments is the necessity of schedules and rules in any business or endeavor that I may choose to undertake.

We must all accept responsibility and rules that govern our lives. But we can generally find self expression, which is the basis of all happiness, in religion, in hobbies, and particularly in building an interest in the work we are doing, and trying to improve ourselves. In fact, we should make a game out of living. It is not necessary to give way to our feelings, and try running away.

It Happened Here

Bowl Of The Sky

Today the sky is a deep yellow bowl
With the rim of a twined leafy scroll;
Now a dollop of butter, a ladle of cream
To where tulips and dandelions team;
Since there's golden batter left in the dish,
Willow shoots use it all, if you wish;
But that's on a day when wind and sun
With leafy shadows flick and run.
Now this day it's a bowl of pewter grey,
For buckwheat pancakes, let us say;
There's a spoonful left for the grey tree bark,
And a spatter for squirrel, out on a lark;
At night it's a lovely silver epergne
Where fruits of Hesperides softly burn.
A flowing bowl, a bowl gone dry,

JUST AROUND the CORNER

Dear Jane:
I've got the cooking bug! I've been trying out all sorts of recipes, both old and new. I dislike having to admit that this fever strikes only occasionally, but when it does I can get terrible dishes and pans of hot rolls. It's too bad I haven't been a better cook—the kind that is constantly making batches of cookies for little boys to snatch after school, but unfortunately, I have never been able to appreciate the "art of cooking." I guess it's a miracle that Rob and the boys are as healthy as they are.

If you have been looking for an especially good yeast roll recipe, try this following one. It's the best I've ever come across. You can store the dough overnight in the refrigerator and bake the following morning, and they'll be as fine-textured as those baked the first day.

2 cakes compressed yeast.
2 cups sugar.
1 cup milk, scalded.
1/2 cup sugar.
1/2 cup butter or margarine.
1 teaspoon salt.
3 eggs, beaten.
4 cups sifted flour.

Crumble yeast in a small bowl, add a tablespoon of sugar and blend until mixture liquefies. Scald the milk, add the sugar, butter and salt. Stir until butter is melted and sugar dissolved. Allow to cool to lukewarm. Add beaten eggs and blend. Add the sifted flour and stir to a soft dough. Turn into lightly greased bowl and set in warm place to rise, two to three hours.

When dough is light, divide in two sections. Roll each on a floured board like pie crust. Brush with melted butter or margarine. Using a sharp knife cut into 16 pie-shaped pieces. Beginning at wide end, roll toward point. Place two to three inches apart on a lightly greased cookie sheet, having tip end of dough underneath. Let rise until double in bulk. Bake in a 400-degree oven, six to eight minutes. Makes 32 rolls.

And here's Irma Mueller's recipe for delicious Oatmeal Yeast Bread.

1 yeast cake.
1 1/2 cups rolled oats (uncooked).
2 cups boiling water.
1 tablespoon salt.
1/4 cup molasses.
2 tablespoons shortening.
4 1/2 cups flour.

Dissolve yeast in 1/2 cup lukewarm water, add 1 tablespoon sugar and let stand a few minutes in warm place. Pour hot water over shortening and rolled oats, and let cool until lukewarm. Add the yeast and 1 cup of flour and beat well. Cover and let stand in warm place until bubbly.

Add molasses, salt and remaining flour. Turn out on a floured board and knead until smooth, working in more flour as necessary to make a stiff dough. Put back in greased bowl, cover and let rise in warm place until double in bulk.

Shape into 2 loaves and place in pans. Grease top of loaves and let rise again. Bake at 425 degrees for 15 minutes. Then 350 degrees for 30 minutes longer.

You probably have discovered "Tootsie Fudge," but if you haven't, for goodness sake, buy a package or two, and give the family a candy treat. In all my life, I have never been able to make fudge that was eatable. It was either too sugary or too soft to cut. Believe me, you will be delightfully successful with this packaged variety. You can't fail. I've used walnuts, not too finely cut, just before removing from the stove, and this fudge is really something to rave

READING & WRITING
BY Robin McKown

In the south of Italy, between Apulia and Calabria, is a region so bare, so desolate, so poverty and malaria-ridden that the people have made up a saying about it. "To this land," they say, "Christ never came. He stopped short of here, at Eboli."

It was there, in the village of Lucania, that Carlo Levi, an uncompromising anti-Fascist, was confined as a political prisoner at the time of the Ethiopian war. His powerful book, "Christ Stopped at Eboli," which has already sold widely in Italy, is the story of the year which Carlo spent in this town and of its people.

As a doctor, he treated them. Their official doctor was aged and senile and had forgotten what medical knowledge he ever had. Levi is also an artist, but it was some time before he could find models. They were prevented by an ancient belief that if you let your portrait be made, you put yourself in the artist's power. In the course of a year, he won their confidence; they were proud to have him with them, and they even offered him their richest and most beautiful young woman in marriage.

John Gunther, whose "Inside U. S. A." will be a June Book-of-the-Month Club selection, has been an ardent searcher after facts from a very early age, according to William Shirer. He had turned all of eleven, when he took it on himself to write an encyclopedia. He got to work and actually finished some hundred pages with such titles as, "All the Necessary Statistics of the World," "Greek and Roman Mythology with Genealogical Tables of the Gods," and "List of Species of the World's Animals." It was at that stage that his elders cracked down on him; he had to give up this extra-curricular activity if he was ever to graduate from the Fifth grade to the Sixth.

"Inside U. S. A." is John Gunther's fourth "inside" book. Next in line, we're told, is a possible "Inside Washington, D. C." and after that, there is the great dark continent of Africa to be considered.

Originality, variety most important in letter writing

Writing to your Congressman? In business letters, according to Louis W. McKelvey, associate professor of English in the School of Commerce of Northwestern University, personality counts just as certainly and as much as it does elsewhere. All

Reynolds to speak to reserve officers

Milton Reynolds, Chicago pen manufacturer and licensed civilian pilot, who circled the earth in 79 hours last month, will relate his experiences on this record-shattering global flight before a joint meeting of the Cook County chapter of the reserve officers association and the Chicago units of the Civil Air Patrol at 8:00 p.m. on Tuesday, May 20, in the Knickerbocker hotel.

traces of individuality have long since been squeezed from the push-button phrases that clog most letters, expressions such as "for your information," "according to our records," "at an early date," and "attached please find." The remedy recommended by Prof. McKelvey is simple: Write naturally. Relax. Imagine that the addressee is sitting across the desk from you, and just "talk" to him.

Personal letters and conversation, too, take on new color and charm when fresh, specific words are substituted for the "omnibus" words upon which so many people lazily rely. Check yourself on the words you probably will find that you are guilty of leaning heavily on "good," "very," "slow," "interesting," and other useful, but general, words.

Why not Prof. McKelvey suggests, try for some individuality in letters and speech by saying, perhaps, that the mechanic who revived your aged automobile is a skilled, or thorough, or reliable, or painstaking mechanic instead of merely a "good" one. "Good" expresses nothing except general approval.

"Most of us are afraid to write simply. We forget that the charm of excellent writing and conversation is that they may be understood without effort, even while possessing freshness which stimulates interest," Prof. McKelvey asserts. "Conversation and letters frequently are dull because we are content to use words which come to us first, instead of seeking synonyms."

He cited examples to show that words carry overtones of meaning which are helpful to persons refurbishing their vocabularies. Language customs change and bring about new meanings for old words. Popular usage substituted "cemetery" for "graveyard." Now "memory park" is in favor. The desire to avoid being specific about death likewise accounts for expressions such as the well known "gone west" of World War I and the "transferred" of World War II.

And who would have anticipated, before the era of aviation and, more recently, of price control, that "ceiling" ever would have a connotation other than its original one?

An example of evolution in word meanings is that of "hostess." Originally a designation for a charming woman presiding at a social gathering, it degenerated into a noun meaning an employee of dance halls. Within the last decade, the word was "rescued" by the railroads, air lines and war service organizations, which restored to it some of its earlier dignity.

It doesn't matter whether you write "graveyard" or "memory park." What is important, Prof. McKelvey says, is that you don't use the same term over and over again, even if the word is in common use. Originality and variety are sure to improve letters and conversation.

Psychologist maps new approach to human problems

The psychologist's traditional system of classifying normal individuals as introverts and extroverts and abnormal persons as schizophrenic, manic-depressive, and paranoid, is inaccurate and largely useless in finding a solution to personal problems. Prof. Robert H. Seashore, chairman of the psychology department at Northwestern University, said Friday morning.

Addressing the nineteenth annual meeting of the Midwestern Psychological Association at the Edgewater Beach Hotel, Prof. Seashore offered a new psychological classification system for personality characteristics that is based on methods used by individuals in attempting to solve his problems.

"Only about five per cent of the population can be classified as introvertive, a label involving extreme emotional sensitivity, avoidance of social contacts, and a tendency to think about a problem rather than act directly to solve it," Dr. Seashore said. "Another five per cent are extroverts, or persons who habitually welcome social intercourse and tackle problems by direct action. This leaves 90 per cent of the people who cannot be benefited by such a classification and analysis."

Therapeutic mental treatment should be based on reeducation of the individual to superior methods of problem solving. Present methods of treatment, which make use of the old classification system, are too slow, as evidenced by the difference in the length of hospitalization for mental disorders and physical disorders. This difference probably is due in part to our failure to recognize the full significance of the individual's methods of dealing with his problems."

Dr. Seashore proposed a classification system of problem-solving methods from which the individual can choose by himself or with the aid of a psychologist or psychiatrist.

He said that the methods used by everyone at some time or other, included: Direct attack (improving your work or increasing your effort, using the same method); flank attack (avoiding a particular obstacle and arriving at a goal by different means); escape (denying the existence of a problem or stalling for time until something happens to relieve you of solving it); and diversion (indulging in emotional outbursts to relieve tension or distracting attention from yourself to a "red herring.")

Methods of attaining partial solutions, he said, included: Rationalization (or distorted reasoning such as fact, that is, acknowledging a socially acceptable motive instead of a real one, a "sour grapes" approach or denial of the value of the original goal, and a "Pollyanna" approach or exaggeration of the value of an inferior goal); identification (joining company and basking in the glory of successful persons when you can't succeed yourself); projection (blaming failure on another person or thing); egocentrism (getting attention, even if unfavorable, because it is better than being ignored); regression (reverting to role of a younger person or in-

Precooling and prepackaging
fresh vegetables

A great deal of experimental work in the precooling and pre-packing of fresh vegetables is now underway. Some of this work has been given a great deal of publicity. Commercial vegetable growers, wholesale and retail dealers and the consuming public are all keenly interested.
Some enthusiastic writers have already concluded that precooling and prepackaging will revolutionize the industry from the grower to the consumer. Others are doubtful of ultimate benefits and believe it to be a passing fad. Most people who have seen the work done and observed the public as they bought the pre-cooled and prepackaged vegetables, have opinions varying between the two extremes.

Precooling is the basic principle involved. Without it the advantages of prepackaging would be very limited indeed and many disadvantages would soon become apparent.

Most of the perishable vegetables from distant producing areas have been precooled and shipped to the wholesaler under refrigeration for several years.
Much of this benefit has been lost in the processes of retail distribution. This fact will still be true unless the retailer can provide refrigerated show cases.
Whether or not vegetables are prepackaged, most stores eventually will have refrigerated display cases.

To date all of the prepackaging has been done in or near big consuming centers, where hand-to-mouth supplies and quick turnovers are possible. The freshly made packages are attractive in appearance and have a strong sales appeal. Yet this very fact has masked some of the more serious problems involved. Vegetables that have been packaged for two or three days have lost most of their attraction. They look quite water soaked and bedraggled. This condition seems to preclude the possibility of prepackaging at the point of production.

The research and experimental work is in good hands. It is much too early to reach definite conclusions. The last word has not been said on any phase of the problems involved. Precooling is not new. We have had it for several years. Prepackaging is new. Seemingly it has a place, but that place and its limitation are not known as the present time.

Lombard to clean up old debts with aid of bond issues

With the effect of a final slate-cleaning of long called village debts, the date deep back into depression years and even before but have since been given the authority of formal court judgments, two judgment funding bond ordinances were introduced at the Lombard village board of trustees meeting.

One ordinance calls for an issue of $54,000 in village bonds to mature over a 20-year period, the proceeds to satisfy in full a group of special assessment bond claims in the principal amount of $60,110.43, with no added interest or other costs.

The other ordinance calls for an issue of $18,000 in village bonds to mature in ten years, the proceeds to satisfy in full a judgment obtained by the Public Service Co. on long past due electricity bills of the village in the amount of $31,867.56.

Veterans with malaria must report attacks to Vets Adm.

Veterans who are drawing compensation for malaria are warned by Service Officer Melvin L. Kehe, of the Illinois Veteran Commission, who has offices at 210 N. Dunton St., Arlington Heights, that recent rulings of the Veterans Administration provide that disability payments for malaria will be cut off at the end of a year without a physical examination, unless medical evidence has been sent in to prove the veteran had suffered a relapse or recurrence during the 12 month period.

Veterans are advised to report to a physician every time a re-lapse occurs, securing the doctor's statement indicating the attack was malaria together with treatment records and evidence of a positive blood smear.

Affidavits from other persons who have seen the attack will also be helpful. All this evidence should be submitted to

Soil fertility bill introduced in U. S. Senate

Officials of the Illinois Agricultural Association learned that a national soil fertility bill of wide interest to farmers has just been introduced in the U. S. Senate.

The bill is similar in many respects to one recently introduced in the House. It establishes a national soil fertility policy and program, authorizes construction of certain fertilizer plants under said program, provides for testing and demonstrating fertilizer produced in such government and cooperative plants on a nation-wide scale and provides for exploration of fertilizer resources on public lands.

According to President Edward A. O'Neal of the American Farm Bureau Federation, ten prominent senators are sponsors of the bill. They are: Capper, Kansas, chairman of the senate agricultural committee; Aiken, Vermont, vice chairman of the committee; Hickenlooper, Iowa; Wherry, Nebraska; Young, North Dakota; Bushfield, South Dakota; Thye, Minnesota; Wilson, Iowa; Hill, Alabama, and Stewart, Tennessee.

President O'Neal reported that he expected an early hearing on the bill. The House soil fertility bill will be revised and reintroduced to conform with the Senate bill, he said.

Farm Bureau officials assert that the soil fertility bills are of primary importance not only to farmers but to consumers as well. It is pointed out that heavy cropping has seriously depleted soil minerals so essential in nutritious diets.

Types and varieties of summer squashes

Summer squashes are enjoying a great wave of popularity. It is due in large part to the new and greatly improved strains and varieties that have been introduced during the past ten years. Doubtless better cooking and serving methods have also tended to increase the popularity of this crop.

Early Prolific, which won All-American Selection in 1938, and Yankee Hybrid, which won the same award in 1941, are straight-necked and heavy-meated forms of the old and less desirable Summer Crookneck. Yankee Hybrid has a waxy lemon-yellow fruit. These varieties, like hte ones they are replacing, grow in bushy form. They may find a place in a small urban garden, where the long vining types could not be used at all.

Zucchini, which may be had in the gray-green or the dark green color, has largely replaced the older Cocozelle in home gardens. Commercial growers still favor Cocozelle because it sets fruit more freely and the fruits reach larger size. These types are prepared by frying in a batter of cracker crumbs and eggs rather than by steaming or boiling.

The old white-scalloped bush forms, which are called Cymblings in the southern states and Patty Pans in New England, continue to be planted in many home gardens. Green Tinted Scallop Bush and Woods Prolific are of this type, but have green-tinted fruits instead of the chalky-white fruits of the older types.

Butternut is in a class by itself. Botanically it is related to the Cushaws. Its straw-colored, straight-necked fruits have a small seed cavity and a large percentage of meat. Butternut has long, vigorous vines and is entirely unsuited to the small urban garden. Butternut may be described as an all-purpose squash. It may be harvested while still succulent and prepared for the table by boiling or steaming, it may be used for baking at about maturity, or after storage for several weeks or months the rather dry meat is excellent for pies.

Five Tons Butter From One Jersey Cow

FERNDAL, CALIF.—Silken Lady's Ruby of F., a 16 year old registered Jersey owned by the Estate of J. W. Coppini, here, becomes the lifetime butterfat producing champion of the United States over all breeds. On official production test, Ruby has amassed a lifetime total of 155,988 lbs. milk and 8,550 lbs. butterfat. If all churned, her milk would have given over 10,000 lbs., or 5 tons, of butter; enough to supply one thousand Americans for a year.

Ruby, in addition to producing, has demonstrated her ability to transmit this outstanding production to her offspring. She has four tested daughters, each with several fine records, and her son, Silken Ruby's Lad, a Gold and Silver Medal Superior Sire, is now the highest rated Tested Sire in the Jersey breed with 10 daughters averaging 698 lbs. of butterfat per lactation.

LAW on the FARM

Employment of Farm Youth. Industrial activity makes it possible for many farm boys and girls to find permanent or summer employment either in large cities or in industries located near their homes. This focuses attention on the Illinois Child Labor Law.

By its terms children under sixteen years of age shall not be employed or permitted to work for or in connection with any... theatre, concert hall, place of amusement, mercantile institution, stores, office, hotel, laundry, manufacturing establishment, mill, cannery factory or workshop, restaurant, lunchroom, beauty parlor, barber shop, bakery, coal, brick or lumber yard, or any type of construction work within the state.

Minors past the age of 14 and less than 16 may be employed in certain occupations provided a certificate of employment is first secured from the county superintendent of schools or from a person designated by him to issue such certificates. Also the law provides that minor between 14 and 16 may be employed outside school hours and during school vacations in factory work which is not dangerous or hazardous, or in other occupations not prohibited by the law or regulations made pursuant to the law.

"Nothing in this act shall be construed to apply to the work of a minor engaged in agricultural pursuits or in the sale and distribution of magazines and newspapers at hours when the schools or the district are not in session; and nothing in this act shall be construed to apply to the employment of a minor outside school hours in and around a home at work usual to the home of the employer; provided such work is not in connection with or a part of the business, trade or profession of the employer." 1945, June 30, Laws 1945, p. 754, Par. 2.

The law referred to is known as the Child Labor Law and may be found in the Illinois Revised Statutes, Chapter 48, Sections 31.1-31.22. It is administered by the State Department of Labor.

A FLY KILLER AND DISINFECTANT, TOO

Why waste money on expensive DDT mixtures to kill flies? Carbola-DDT (2% DDT) is guaranteed to kill them at low cost. Proven in thousands of tests on farms by county agents. Natural adhesiveness of our special mineral carrier causes Carbola-DDT to stick to wall, ceilings. This gives you the residual, long-lasting DDT recommended by authorities. Continues to kill flies, mosquitoes, spiders for months. Simply mix Carbola-DDT powder in water and apply with brush or sprayer. Dries white. Costs approximately 3 cents to treat 25 sq. ft. No oil, no fire risk. Use in cow barns (cut need for cow spray 50%), poultry houses, rabbitries, pigeon lofts, outdoor toilets. And paint your cellar and dog house. DESTROYS DISEASE GERMS, ODOORS Carbola-DDT also contains a disinfectant which kills germs of disease that afflict cows, poultry and other livestock. Used for a quarter of a century as Carbola, the disinfecting white paint, by agricultural colleges, hatcheries and thousands of farmers. Now it does three jobs for you in one easy operation: (1) Kills flies (2) Destroys disease germs (3) Meets whitewash sanitation requirements of Board of Health. ## Hughes tells why property taxes are high this year

"In Illinois the 1946 property tax bills are, or will shortly be, in the hands of the taxpayers. To many owners of real estate this annual reminder of cost of local government will be both unpleasant and unexpected," so states the first sentence of the Federal Reserve Board's article "Property Taxes in Illinois"—a recent release.

Why taxes are up about 30% over last year is accounted for as follows:

1. As a whole salaries, wages, businesses, farm incomes increased 250% over 1939 level. Materials purchased by local governments increased 37%. Sales taxes are 126% over 1939. Taxes up to now have not increased in these amounts.
2. While public improvement plans are supposed to be put on the shelf for depression years actually present plans call for an expenditure of $280,000,000.
3. There are general increases for grants to school districts, poor relief, dependent children relief.
4. Local taxpayers do not assume any responsibility in attending town meetings when township budgets are set, hence the budget is a creation of elected officials and not the taxpayers as was the original intent.

"This history of property taxes," states Farm Adviser Hughes, "is a lag that appears after an inflationary period. When they do appear it is about at the end of the boom, and the easy money that could have paid high taxes has disappeared. After World War I, high property taxes lasted until 1929—the depression year.

"Folks who have paid no interest in public affairs are coming in and asking what can be done to get taxes down. The answer is if your assessment is higher than those surrounding you for the same property you can pay under protest, using the proper form. It is not sufficient to merely complain that your taxes are up. You must show that the values on your property are relatively higher than for equal valued property nearby or have another good reason. But to get your taxes down—brother, the whip of high taxes are on our backs from now on—how long Heaven only knows. Anyhow, may be you will go to that town meeting next April."

Palatine herd

The 13-cow herd of registered Holstein-Friesians owned by Mrs. Dorothy Holmstrom, Palatine, has recently completed a year of production testing with the average butterfat production per cow being more than 2½ times as much as that of the nation's average dairy cow, says The Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

An average of 481 pounds of butterfat and 13,040 pounds of milk has been officially recorded. Milking was done 2 times daily.

The highest producer in the herd was Star Fobes Belle 2176-171, a 5-year-old, which produced 633 pounds of butterfat and 17,743 pounds of milk.

Testing was supervised by University of Illinois in cooperation with The Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

Buddhist Holiday

Nearly 165,000,000 Buddhists, 8 per cent of the world's population, observe the day when Buddha left his home, the anniversary of his birth and the day when he attained to perfection and entered Nirvana. Some Buddhists celebrate the festival of the close of the year, with visiting and play-going. The new year is celebrated for three days, and other holidays occur throughout the year, with presents made of cakes of new rice being exchanged on the last day of June.

Value of Ass'n bulls shown

Holsteins sired by bulls of the Northern Illinois Dairy Cattle Breeding Association of Dundee topped all classes except for cows four years old and over at the Illinois Holstein Spring Sale at Aurora on Saturday, April 26, according to information received from John H. Brock, business manager of the Association.

Of the sixteen animals selling for $500 and over, ten of them were sired by bulls owned or at one time leased by the Association.

Classes by ages that were topped by daughters of Association sires were: Junior and senior heifer calves, junior and senior yearling heifers, bred two year olds, springing two year olds, milking two year olds, and three year old cows.

The top three year old was a paternal sister to Dougvic Pathfinder Butter Boy, an Association sire, and by Montvic Pathfinder Chieftain, leased for a time by the Association. This cow sold for $850 and was consigned by W. D. Goeke of Dundee.

Milking two year olds were topped by a daughter of Tyler Farms Master Lee consigned by Inka Farm of Hampshire and sold for $625. A springing two year old daughter of Oak Bend King Bess Perfection from Shanley Farm of Palatine was tops at $650. A bred two year old of Bingham Brothers of Arlington Heights topped this division at $700. This heifer is a daughter of Oak Bend Bess Perfection.

A senior yearling heifer by Tyler Farms Master Lee was tops at $400 for Frank J. Rief of Chicago. A. H. Kohlbusch of Grayslake had the top junior yearling, a daughter of Westerdale Inkarnat Prince, selling for $500.

The top senior heifer calf was a daughter of Osbornedale Colonel Lochinvar consigned by Inka Farm of Hampshire and selling for $500. A junior heifer calf by Osbornedale Colonel Lochinvar consigned by Turner and Winn of Richmond sold for $300 to top her division.

Planting method has no effect on corn yields

Is hill-dropping or checking the best way to plant corn? Tests at the University of Illinois Agricultural Experiment Station showed no advantage for hill-dropping over checking. Checked corn gave the highest yield in 1945 and 1946. Drilling with and without furrow openers on level land did not increase yield over checking or hill-dropping.

J. F. Rundquist, agronomy department, said that where contour farming is practiced drilling with furrow openers might add a few bushels to the yield. Tests were conducted on relatively flat prairie soil in which there was no advantage of planting in furrows.

Checked corn, Rundquist added, permits cultivation in both directions. This method may be desirable when weeds are numerous and frequent cultivations are necessary. Obviously, hill-dropped corn like drilled corn can be cultivated only in the direction in which it was planted. On land where weeds are not a serious problem, hill-dropping can be done satisfactorily.

Rundquist believes that, regardless of method of planting, soils of high productivity will carry a comparatively thick stand of corn plants. A uniform stand of the optimum number

New photoelectric counter to detect bacteria-free rooms

A new photoelectric instrument, which can automatically count individual smoke particles or bacteria as small as 25 millionths of an inch in diameter and weighing only four millionths of a billionth of an ounce, has been developed in the chemistry department at Northwestern University.

When sunlight streams thru a window into a darkened room, the sparkling motes of dust are clearly visible, because of the light which they reflect and scatter. All suspensions of finely divided materials in air, called "aerosols," show this property of scattering light. This is true whether the material is transparent or opaque, solid or liquid.

The new counter utilizes the light scattered by microscopic particles. A brilliant light is concentrated in the center of a black-walled cell by means of a condensing lens. A stream of air containing the suspended particles, of smoke, for example, or bacteria, is passed through this bright spot, and each particle signals its presence by a flash of light. An electric eye, arranged to view these flashes, translates each into a tiny, electric pulse, which is amplified 200,000 times by an electronic circuit.

The amplified pulse then is "fed" to a "trigger tube" which gives a large enough surge of current to actuate an electromagnet counter. Thus each pulse advances the hand of the counter one division on a circular dial, which is graduated from zero to 100.

The apparatus originally was designed and built under a contract with the Office of Scientific Research and Development, and improved under a subsequent contract with the Army Service Forces, in order to test the filters of American service gas masks by detecting the passage of even a few microscopic particles. If one particle out of every 10,000,000 in a concentrated test smoke passes through the filter, its presence can be detected. Thus the device serves as a supersensitive filter tester.

In testing contamination of a system in which sterile conditions are required, the presence of a trace of room air will show up instantly on the counter, while in the usual bacteriological count, involving collection, culturing on an agar plate, and counting of resulting bacterial colonies, it will not appear until hours later.
